FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

THE Bank of America seems to have been an absurd case of misnomer. The Bank of the Mammoth Cave would have been a better-fitting title.

BOSTON has reached an interesting stage of her progress in dealing with the liquor question. In other words, the whole matter has been laid on the table.

A NEW YORK barber who mysteriously disappeared under suspicious circumstances a few days ago has been found to have left $8000 to his credit in bank. What a ridiculous oversight!

PENNSYLVANIA and California are so far the only States that have named their commissioners to the World's Fair of 1892. As the procession has started it is time for the other States to get in line.

THE only State in which the "original package" decision on the liquor question passes without criticism is the state of intoxication. It is accepted there on the general principle that every little bit helps to fill up.

THERE seems to be a whole lot of Democrats who are anxious and willing to serve their country as county officers this fall if only "the dear people" are, but we are afraid that "the dear people" are afraid to—elect them.

REPRESENTATIVE BYNUM, of Indiana, denies the right of Congress to grant bounties on any commodity whatever. Unfortunately, however for Bynum, his denial is opposed by the facts, by the precedents and by the Constitution.

REPRESENTATIVE MASON, of Illinois, should not try to compete with Allen, of Mississippi, in the production of doggerel for the amusement of the House. Allen can beat him all hollow. Besides that, one clown is quite enough for a circus with a single ring.

CAMERON made a speech in the Senate the other day, but Quay continues to maintain a dignified silence.—Watchman That is probably because there is no occasion for him to say anything; and as for maintaining a "dignified silence that is more than can be said about some prominent democrats.

THE Pittsburg Commercial Gazttee purports to be a newspaper and yet it failed to tell its readers just how the four delegates from York county were instruct. We think our Pittsburg contemporary deserves to stand first in the list of "organs" in the State and away down fort in the newspaper line.

THE Meadville Tribune-Republican evidently has a little political world of its own, encompassed by the boundary of Crawford county, within which it lives, moves and has its being. Come brother; get up and shake the dust off your feet and come into the broad light of the political horizon of this Commonwealth, and then see what you now can't see, but which is there all the same.

THREE hundred and forty-six prominent citizens of Philadelphia have endorsed resolutions recommending Mr John A. Passmore, of that city, as a candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr, Passmore is a prominent citizen and has been for many years connected with the educational and charitable institutions of the Commonwealth. Mr. Passmore would make an available candidate and we would like to see his ship sail into deep waters.

Return Thanks.

The comrades of Gregg Post, G. A. R, unanimously express their appreciation of the address delivered yesterday in the Court House by the Rev. J. B. Koontz, desireing that the same be her, bymadeknown through the press. Having been a soldier during the late war Mr. Koontz understands the sentiment pervading the soldier organization and know how to touch the heart of all such as loved and felt during the late ware whether soldiers or their friends.

ON THE GOVERNORSHIP.

Pittsburg Times.

There will be 204 delegates to the Republican State Convention on the 25th of June. Ninety of these are yet to be elected, 58 of them in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties, where the State organization of the party will have to be backed by the strong hand of the Federal patronage, with Senator Quay's knife drawn against every other candidate, if Mr. Delamater is to have any strength. Senator Delamater has 59 of the 114 delegates so far elected. If he got all the delegates yet to be chosen outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, he would have but 93, which would be 10 short of a majority. Nobody supposes for an instant that he will get all of them. There is good ground for thinking that he will not get a majority of them, which would leave his declared first ballot strength below 75. It takes 103 to nominate. Most of those who are credited to the various other candidates have been elected on a district anti-Delamater, or anti-Quay platform, and will combine with each other to beat him.

Senator Delamater has not been holding his own lately. In the primaries on Saturday, 12 delegates were elected, of which Senator Delamater got one from Elk, one, and possibly two from Indiana, and one from Franklin. The others are against him. The probable vote of the delegates so far elected, so far as it can be definitely ascertained, is as sollows.

Delamater	59

Philadelphia Press.

Up to last Saturday 103 of the 204 delegates who will constitute the membership of the Republican State Convention had been elected. The primaries in seven counties on Saturday resulted in the choice of twelve more delegates, bringing the total now elected up to 115. This is more than a majority of the convention, but these 115 delegates are divided among seven candidates for the Gubernatorial nomination, so that no one has yet enough votes to nominate him.

About one-half the whole number of delegates already elected are instructed, and each one of the seven candieates can claim some of the instructed delegates, leaving sixty or so uninstructed, many of whom are just now a good deal at sea as to what they are likely to do when the time comes to vote in the convention. Of the remaining eighty-nine delegates yet to be elected Philadelphia and Allegheny will name fifty-five, and the others will come from Beaver, Chester, Dauphin, Fayette, Forest, Huntingdon, Jefferson, Lebanon, Montgomery, Perry, Somerset, Washington and Westmoreland, and nearly all of them will be chosen within the next ten days.

The general interest which has been aroused during the past two or three weeks, which has brought out to the primaries in many instances substantially the whole Republican vote, has made the contest more than ever free for all It is very far from being determined yet, and it has now been made practically certain that it will not be determined short of the ballots taken in the convention. What the result will be may be predicted by any one according to his preferences or hopes, and under the circumstances the guess of one will be as good as that of another, but no better

One thing is easy to see: The present situation makes it pretty certain that the candidate will be taken from the list of those already in the field. They have made their contest, and, so far as the candidates are concerned, it has been a friendly and manly rivalry. While certain unnatural events have stirred up some bitterness among the followers, there is nothing to prevent all the candidates who may fail from according the one who may succeed a cordial and earnest support.

It is in this spirit that all have worked All are pledged to such action, and nobody need fear that there will be any failure to carry out the pledge. This preliminary contest is one between Republicans; when it is over the struggle will be with the common enemy.

RECENT events suggest that the old maxim be revised so as to read: 'The fool and his money soon went to a bucket shop.'

THAT KARTHAUS BRIDGE.

There has been considerable newspaper discussion, at the other end of the line—which has been copied in some Centre county papers, and then unfavorably commented on, and now we think it about time that somebody be shown up and somebody else be set aright before the people. In the Clearfield Republican of two weeks ago appeared the following:

The new bridge at Karthaus, built conjointly by Centre and Clearfield counties, is in a bad condition, if all reports be true. The pier is said to be giving way already and is cracked from top to bottom. The pier was started on the foundation of the old pier nearly fifty years ago, and is some eight or 10 inches lower than the abutments where it should be higher. The general opinion is that the bridge will not last long. The Commissioners of Clearfield county gave the Commissioners of Centre County full control of the work, and as they seem to have failed in their duty the counties will have but one course to pursue—build a second pier.

We do not pretend to know whether the above was authorized by the Comissioners of Clearfield county or whether it is the imagination pure and simple of the fertile brain of the editor of our Clearfield contemporary, but be it what it may, it is a lie manufactured from the whole cloth and was published only to shield the democratic party. The true facts in the case are that the commissioners of Clearfield county instead of those of Centre had supervision of the work. Samuel Brugger, the engineer in charge was the choice of the Clearfield county commissioners and it was they who insisted that the Centre county commissioners engage no engineer but leave Mr. Brugger. have complete and full control and the result they are now trying to saddle on to the Centre count board of commissioners.

Here is the rub: The Clearfield board of commissioners is democratic the engineer in charge was a democrat and the superintendent of the Bridge company was a democrat, and now to assume the blame would be too hard on them politically and hence they are trying to shove it off onto Centre county. But it won't work. There is too much documentary evidence at hand to disprove it.

The condition of the bridge is bad enough for a new structure, but it is not so bad as has been reported. It is true the capstone of the pier has raised over the outer edge and the pier is cracked, but the remedy is practical and the cost nominal, if anything. The whole fault is that the pier is 8 inches too low; and the bridge was taken off the contractors hands by the engineer and the mistake not noticed because he did not have his instruments along. He admits this and shoulders the blame

The bridge can be made all right by simply raising it and inserting a large capstone 8 inches thick to cover the entire pier. This will settle the other capstone to its place and prevent any further cracking of the masonry. We willingly admit that the job was a bad one to take off the contractor's hands but we want it distinctly understood that the Centre county Board of Commissioners are not the ones to blame.

OUR esteemed and much valued contemporary, the Altoona Tribune, although we highly prize it as a newspaper, is we think, deserving of severe criticism for its egotistical and selfish flings at various aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination. We do not particularize; but the Altoona paper evidently thinks that one man constitutes the whole and that the whole should support the one man. Come, brother; be a man for the party. The aspirants are all good enough and, even conceeding your right to your personal preference, do not decry the others, but give justice and merit where justice and merit is due. We have our personal preference but we would count it unwise to cut the throats of others that our choice might drink the blood of his victims and survive.

"No," said the moss covered, alleged business man, "I cannot afford to advertise. If I did, more customers would come and I would have to hire more clerks to wait on them, and I cannot afford that additional expense.

NATIONAL TEMPERANCE CONGRESS.

A circular has been issued, signed by a committee of six, in addition to the names of one hundred and sixteen temperance workers from all parts of the United States, for a national temperance congress to convene in the Broadway Tabernacle Church, New York City, June 11th and 12th, "to look into one another's face, to compare views frankly, to learn the whole ground, if possible, by candid and friendly discussion." The circular further urges "friends everywhere to take steps immediately to see that every section of the country is fully represented.

Among the subjects that will be presented for the consideration of the Congress will be the following:

Is State and National Prohibition desirable and feasible?

Can we regard High License a remedy?

How many Churches aid most effectually in the Destruction of the Liquor Traffic?

What should be the attitude of Labor Men toward the Liquor Traffic?

The line on which all Enemies of the Saloon may unitedly do battle, whether they be believers in Restrictive Measures or in radical Prohibition.

Is there any Restrictive Policy possible that would not be necessarily offensive to those who believe that "the Legalization of the Liquor Traffic is a Sin"—that "License High or Low, is vicious?"

Should there be a Political Party whose dominant idea is the Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic?

The Law and Order Societies—how far and in what ways these may be made Auxiliaries in the Temperance Warfare?

To what causes is to be attributed the failure of the Prohibition Amendments in the late contests in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island?

The Coffee House as a Counteractive of the saloon.

Improvod dwellings in large Cities.

Local Option.

The Supreme Court Decision in the "Unbroken Package" case.

The systematic prosecution of the Total Abstinence Work essential to the Overthrow of the Liquor Power.

The Duty of the Churces in regard to Temperance Work among the Young.

Personal Rescue Work.

Decoration Day.

Decoration day will be duly, fittingly—impressively observed in Bellefonte this year. Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R., has made arrangements which, when perfected, will make the memorial service on Friday one of the best that has ever been held in Bellefonte. No expense, pains, or labor are being spared to make the tribute of 1890 a glowing one and one in fit keeping with the sacrifice made almost thirty years ago, when our brave northern sons went to the hot southern fields, suffered, bled and died that the Constitution of the United States might stand and the prosperity of our nation be assured.

And it seems to us that every American citizen could not fail to have that much self-love for their country, that much patriotism in them but that they would willingly aid and participate in the solemn service of memorial day. and must ever feel grateful to be able to participate in honoring the dead, but not forgotten, heroes.

'There is one solace left to me, at least,' remarked the old farmer. 'After all my boys leave and go up to the city, after the pigs and cattle die, and everything else forsakes me, there is at least one thing that will stick to the old farm.'

'And that is—'

'The mortgage!'

Mr. Venerable (who had not seen her for years)—How beautiful Mrs Grayaire, you were in your youth.

Mrs. Grayaire [remembering his weakness]—And how idiotic you were. Then after looking at him a moment, 'And you have not changed much.'

Smithers (who has been selected to row on the University)—I am sorry, captain, but I don't believe I will row this year. I am going to study, and study hard.

Potato bugs have already appeared in large numbers in Rhode Island.

ELECTRICAL COAL DIGGER.

A Machine at Work in Centre County Which it is Claimed, Will Revolutionize a Great Industry.

PHILLIPSBURG, PA., May 26—After repeated experiments, extended over a number of years and attended by a large expenditure, it has been demonstrated that electricity can be used to operate a machine for mining coal; that there is to be a revolution in this important branch of industry that will reduce the cost of mining and the number of miners, but at the same time enable the men who direct the electrical coal digger to make much larger wages than their fellows who mine with the pick,

The electrical machine was invented by Peter Arp, of Centre county, and is owned by Mr. Arp and Robert A. Jackson, a mine owner. It is in successful eratiopon at Mr. Jackson's mine at Powelton.

The plant consists, first of a seven-horse power automatic engine. To the engine is belted a seven-horse power generator. From the generator the wires are run through the mine to the coal cutter, located about a mile from the mouth. This machine is operated by a very small motor, which is built in the machine.

The machine consists of an iron frame 24 inches high, 8 feet 6 inches long and 36 inches wide. Below are nine auger shape drills, similar to those now used in mining, Between each drill is a steel cutter bar, which cuts all coal left between the holes drilled by the augers. Under and hanging to the cutter bars are several rows of scrapers, which hang loosely and pull all the coal back as fast as it is cut or drilled, thus keeping it out of the way and making the opening clear. All the coal taken out is coarse and none is wasted.

The height of the cut is about four inches. The machine can make two cuts 3 feet wide and 5 feet in 5 minutes, as it is easily handled and only needs to be shoved along the breast by the aid of a couple of bars. It can be taken anywhere in any mine and is easily handled on a truck supplied with rollers and a windlass. It weighs nearly 1,200 pounds. The machine can be raised or lowered to cut, any part of the vein, sulphur, bony. slate or any other hard substances:

The inventors claim that by the use of this machine the most dangerous part of the miners' work will be found unnecessary; that accidents resulting from falls of coal will be almost impossible; that its adoption and use will operate to the benefit of, and not to the detriment of miners, in that mere coal will be taken out in a given length of time, that it will be taken out in much better shape; that little, if any skill is necessary to operate the machine, and that its use must tend to elevate the avocation of the miner.

Mr. Blanxue—Have you spoken with the Herr Professor yet, Miss Waldo?

Miss Waldo—No; the German gutturals are so decollette that they offend my ears.

Er-decollette.

Yes—so low in the neck, you know.

Niagara Hackman—One dollar!

Visitor—What for?

Information.

You haven't told me anything.

Didn't you ask me what I'd charge t' drive you t' the Falls?

Yes; and you said $5, which is altogether too much.

Well, d'yer suppose I'm goin' ter give away price lists for nothin? Ante!

Seeing it in a new Light—'You ought to quit smoking cigarettes, De Sappy. It's injurious to your health.'

'Aw!' (Puff! puff!)

'Yes; physicians say cigarettes paralyze the brain.'

'Aw!' (Puff! puff!)

'Besides, the Prince of Wales has given them up.'

'You don't say?' (Throws it away.)

Captain of the Crew—Indeed! Well I want you to stop this——fooling and get into that boat!

Smithers gets.

Miss Catch—You believe in Darwinism, I believe—the survival of the fittest, the doctrine of selection, and all that sort of thing.

Mr. Backward—Yes.

"Is your husband a very generous man?

Indeed he is. You remember those nice cigars I gave him for a birthday present? Well, he smoked one, and gave all the others away to his friends.

Miss Catch—Um—ah—well, how is it you don't live up to your belief and select some one?

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Lace Dresses. Jackets and Capes. Millinery. Hosiery.

Black lace dresses are as popular as ever "La Tosca," Point d' Esprit" and "Chantilly." In these beautiful materials the all prevading idea of stripes and floral designs in combination, find opportunity for charming displays of taste and ingenuity. Spanish hand run is chiefly used in flouncings, parasol covers and fichus, as it is too expensive to be generally adopted. Flounces are shown in all widths, and in all kinds of lace. the most desirable being 45 inches, Fish-net dresses trimmed in morie] ribbon, are just as stylish as they were last season. A beautiful garniture for] lace dresses of fine quality, is silk embroidery from 8 to 10 inches wide, in natural colors, on the sheerest black net and arranged on the costume in many fanciful ways, according to the taste of the wearer. Black sewing silk grenadines are in narrow and wide stripes, with hemstiching effect between the stripes, the same novelty may be observed in black surahs. Cheviots are invaluable for every-day wear, and a large proportion are made with full velvet sleeves and velvet collar; cape to match with Van Dyke yoke of velvet.

THE PRESENT STYLE

Of using different materials and colors in the same costume is an economical one, and there is no excuse for a lady being badly dressed, as the best parts of two half worn gowns, if put together with taste and skill, will produce a surprising result. The labor and annoyance of all kinds of sewing work has been wonderfully lightened by the invention of Milward's Calyx Eyed Needle. It saves time, trouble and eyesight, the thread being merely passed through a slit in the head of the needle. To properly appreciate this invention, it is only necessary to watch a person with failing eyesight, trying to thread an old fashioned needle.

JACKETS AND CAPES.

Stylish jackets are in white, with revers, pocket flaps and cuffs heavily braided in gilt, or with these accessories in black or colored velvet, The jacket of all others, is the one showing a dotted or figured pique vest, white shirt front, silk tie, with high standing collar. It should not be necessary to add this style is only intended for the really youthful. Imported cloth capes have yokes heavily braided in gilt, with a narrow braiding on the frills; sometimes the upper frill is looped on the shoulder, and in some cases a round yoke is closely beaded with one deep frill of accordion plaiting. Black lace capes with beaded Vandyke yokes, are extremely stylish, and here the richest lace may be used with fine effect. An imported lace cape is of sheer black net, with exquisitely fine colored braiding, extending from the lower edge to the shoulder. A full box plaiting of gilt spangled net is placed above the frill, and a high collar of green velvet cut in points and edged with gilt cord, gives finish to one of the most beautiful capes of the season. Black beaded capes are in endless variety, and do not differ essentially from those of last season excepting the fringe which is now formed of long, double strands of beads, the style having entirely disappeared.

MILLINERY.

Lace straw flats are curious subjects of speculation. Not only from their size, which averages seventeen and a half inches in diameter (not including the height of the crown) but from the quantity of flowers, tulle, velvet and lace that can be piled up on one head. If the flat be of a reasonable size, the flowers fine, the brim tastefully curved, and a fair young face beneath it, the ensemble is charming. Crowns are never cut from lace straw flats. A foundation is necessary upon which to construct their flower gardens. Turbans and straw toques are trimmed up to a point; black and gilt pins being largely used where much ribbion is employed. A row of narrow ribbon velvet is sometimes run midway on the brim of Leghorn flats matching the loopings of velvet on the crown.

HOSIERY

follows in the wake of dress goods, and as this season supposed to match the costume; consequently stripes, plaids and delicate floral patterns predominate. The 'black boot' is a very serviceable stocking, the foot and ankle being black and extending over in Vandyke points on a bright color, which begins at the top of the boot. Brilliant plaids of crimson, black and yellow; stripes in different combinations; and bright brocaded sprigs on black ground are a few of the many varieties in new hosiery.

They Compliment Gen. Hastings.

Gen. Hastings arrived on the 8:45 train this morning, and was met by R. M. Wirt, Stephen Keefer and Mr. Fleming of the Central Hotel, whose guest he was for the day. A great number of both Republicans and Democrats called on the General during the morning. After dinner he was serenaded by the Silver Coronet Band. After the band had played a few familiar airs, Stephen Keefer, Esq., introduced the General as the hero of Johnstown. By this time a large crowd had gathered and the General treated all to a first-class speech. He said "not in this entire Commonwealth has he yet met so clean and beautiful a little city." Here it was that the first blood of the late Rebellion was shed on free soil. Your town is historic, and all readers of history knows of Hanover. He showed how all things came from the common people, and closed without a word on politics. The General certainly took Hanover on his first charge and leaves with a host of new friends made to-day. Before departing he called on Rev. Chas. Steck who is one of the Chaplains of our State militia and an intimate friend of the General. —York Gazette.

Customer—Up one flight? Then I can't take my cah? I'll drive to some place where I can get a necktie in the same country I'm in when I ask for it:

Family Lawyer.—I understand that you are a suitor for the hand of the daughter of my millionaire client?

Titled foreigner—Yes, monsieur, in part.

Family lawyer—In part? Explain yourself.

Titled foreigner (with a shrug)—Well, monsieur, to be frank wiz you, I shall expect ze ocketbook zat goes wiz ze hand.

SHE—Oh, horrors!

HE—What is it, darling?

SHE—I forgot all about poor pussy, left in the house alone, and we off for a week. She'll starve.

HE—Oh, I remembered her. I left a can of condensed milk on the kitchen table with a sardine opener beside it.

GABBY—Well, how did you find yourself?

CRUSTY—Don't have to find myself—I never get lost!

"I telll you 'finis' is always at the end of the book; never in the middle or first part."

"I'll bet you a five you find it under 'F' in the dictionary."

Guest (to head waiter)—Is your name Tide?

Waiter—No, sir.

Guest—Or Time?

Waiter—Not at all.

Guest—Well, it ought to be one of them. You wait on no man.

The Court 'What is your age, Madam?'

The Plaintiff—'Must I answer?'

The Court—'You must.'

Plaintiff—'Why, Judge, I thought people did't have to testify against themselves!'

Tailor—See here, this account can not run up any higher.

Foreign Count—But I'm about to marry an American heiress.

Ah, my lord, that is different.

Two heads are better than one, but in a beer keg they are usually lagerheads.

Brenson—Who shall decide when the doctors disagree? Johnson—The Coroner generally has to do it.

Carrier—But I don't know you, sir!

Mr Greene Oage—S'pose not: I only come to town yesterday. But look through your bag. I ain't got time to go to the Post-office to-day.

Prudent mother—Why do you snub Mr. Omelette so much? He is chief cook with a wealthy family, and he means matrimony.

Daughter—No, mamma, he doesn't mean to marry. He doesn't need any wife, for he can do his own cooking.

Husband—What a beautiful hat you have got.

Wife—What do you men know about ladies' costumes?

We know how much they cost.

Applicant—I ask for the hand of your daughter.

Parent—Have you any prospects for the future?

None whatever.

She hasn't any, either. Take her, my boy, and be happy. God bless you both.

Mrs. Debit—'I hear that your office is to be closed early on Saturdays during the summer, John.'

Mr. Debit—'Yes, dear; and I'm jolly glad of it, too!'

Mrs. Debit—'Well, now, don't you think you'll have a chance to balance up your books on Saturday afternoons, instead of keeping me worrying half the night?'

Anxious Wife—'Doctor, how is my husband?'

Doctor—'He will come around all right What he needs now is quiet. I have here a couple of opiates.'

Anxious Wife—'When shall I give them to him?'

Doctor—'Give them to him? They are for you, madam. Your husband needs rest.'

Mr. Henpeck—How are you coming on in grammar at school?'

Johnny—I am writing out my exercises about the active and passive verbs 'I have married' is active,

Mr. Henpeck [glancing at his vicious wife]—No, Johnny; it is passive.

WHAT HIS WIFE HEARD.

A Wrong Phonograph Cylinder Plays Havoc in a Lawyer's House.

Chicago Times.

A young married man who has a law office in the Tacoma building, but who has hardly the practice to warrant the constant employment of a stenographer and typewriter, last week hit upon the happy expedient of renting a phonograph and dictating his letters, and speeches and briefs to it for a typewriter to write out at his leisure.

This plan, too, had the double advantage of calming the fears and objections of his young wife, who is a bit jealous and who demurs to the employment of a female typewriter in her husband's office.

A few days after securing the phonograph a fair client, who was an applicant for a divorce, came to the office She saw the phonograph and she declared she must "see it work."

In order to satisfy her the lawyer, for want of anything better, began to read from a letter written to his fair client by the husband from whom she desired a divorce. The letter ran something like this:

"My own, own darling: You are the only woman on earth I really care for; you are the sweetest, loveliest creature that walks the earth. I never knew what love was until I met you," etc., etc."

The machine did not work to suit the lawyer and he took out the cylinder and replaced it by another.

Some days after this the lawyer's wife came into the office just as the typewriter came down to copy from the machine. The lawyer was out; the young woman, of course, got the cylinder into which the letter had been read: "The wife placed the audiphone to her ears and listened to her husband's familiar voice reciting: "My own, own darling: You are the only woman on earth," etc.

The female typewriter says the scene that followed cannot be described. The young wife smashed the phonograph, refused to be comforted or listen to the explanation which her husband, who at that moment came in, attempted to make.

She rushed out of the office, called a cab and was driven home. The lawyer has not been near his office for four days, and it is not known whether he is at home making peace with his wife or abroad in this great city seeking surcease from sorrow in the depths of the flowing bowl.

"Tired All the Time."

Say many poor men and women, who seem overworked, or are debilitated by change of season, climate or life. If you could read the hundreds of letters praising Hood's Sarsaparilla which come from people whom it has restored to health, you would be convinced of its merits. As this is impossible, why not try Hood's Sarsaparilla yourself and thus realize its benefit? It will tone and build up your system, give you a good appetite, overcome that tired feeling and make you feel, as one woman expresses it, "like a new creature." j-1

A New Check Upon Checks.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

'There, I've got it down fine at last, and no mistake,' and one of Philadelphia's best known business men laid his pen down with a sigh of relief, and hastily blotted his name on a check with a blotter.

'Got what down?' asked a visitor.

'A new wrinkle adopted by merchants and others to prevent their names from being forged to checks. It's this way; After singing my name I turn the pen up and draw a line through it from right to left, and it looks as if the name had been canceled.

'The peculiar little twirl at the end where the long line of the pen commences is where the forger of a man's name gets left. He doesn't tumble to it, so to speak, but the cashiers of the bank where I do business do, and they know instantly whether the signature is genuine or not. You see, also, this line drawn through the name makes the check look as if it was no good in case it is lost, and the finder will not present it for collection. It's a great idea, and is being adopted by many business men of the city. Of course, we have to explain it to the bank people, who, once they know it, have no further trouble with us over it. But the worst of it is the practicing to get it down fine, and it takes some little work to do so,' and he gazed proudly at the unsightly line drawn through his name at the bottom of a check for $7.000.

No Hurry.

A criminal whose day of execution had arrived was asked by his jailer if he had any last favor to ask.

'I have, sir,' said the condemned man, 'and it is a very slight favor, indeed.'

'Well, if it is really a slight favor, I can grant it. What is it?'

'I hanker for a few peaches to eat.'

'Peaches?' exclaimed the jailer, 'why, they won't be ripe for several months yet.'

'Well,' said the condemned man, 'that doesn't matter—I'll wait!'

Country Visitor—How's your darter coming on?

Mrs. Portly Pompous—My daughter is now Countess De Bambini.

She is, eh? I suppose she is more of a ninny, if possible, than ever.

The Spirit of the Press.

From Smith's (Pittsburg & Wilkensburg) Broad Axe.

The boom Gen. Hastings received at the hands of the business men of Philadelphia has caused renewed activity in the ranks of his friends and increased hope among his admirers. While Gen. Hastings is well known throughout the state, his meritorious services at the time of the Johnstown catastrophe brought him into a prominence that makes him a dangerous opponent in the gubernatorial contest.

From the Lebanon Courier.

Adjutant General D. H. Hastings visited our city, last Monday, and made old friends firmer and new ones enthusiastic. The general is a big man, physically, socially, intellectually and politically considered. His history is one of success, achieved step by step, and we believe, is destined to become still more strikingly brilliant and substantial. Our delegates will do handsomely by supporting him for Governor.

From the Pottsville Miner's Journal.

Yesterday eighteen Republican voters of the Fourth assembly district sent in their written preferences for Governer to the Miners' Journal. Eleven of these favored General Hastings for their first choice while three others desired him as their second choice. Osborne decided two votes for first choice and nine for second choice. Stone had one supporter for first choice and three for second.

Delamater received his first votes two votes being cast for him as first choice. The friends of Montooth were also heard from two votes being registered for him as first choice and the same number for second choice. The result of the two days' balloting summed up as follows:

For C. W. Stone, 1st choice, 2; 2d choice 9.

For D. H. Hastings, 1st choice, 21; 2d choice, 7.

For E. S. Osborne, 1st choice, 7; 2d choice 16.

For G. W. Delamater, first choice, 2; 2d choice, 0.

For E. A. Montooth, 1st choice 2; 2d choice 2.

City Visitor.—What makes litte Tommy cry so, Mr. Leeks?

Farmer Leeks.—Well, the fact is he went out this morning to find a hornet's nest for his natural history collection, and——

And the poor boy couldn't find one?

Naw; the poor boy found one.

Mrs. Cumso.—Why are you always making jokes about everything?

Cumso.—Jest for fun.

Uncle Ned.—Does your father ever play ball Tommy?

Tommy (with the recollection of a recent chastisement in mind).—No; but I am sure, if he did, that he would make a great batting average.

BONNER.

all persons interested in improv inghe blood of their horses should all at the Cummings House stables and see the trottingbred ho rse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The p digree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was by Messenger. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years.

This horse has always been kept for service. However after one week's training upon the track, at Lewisburg he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

'STARTLE'

The proprietors of Bonner have lso purchased Startle.

Startle is a light colored chestnut bay; he will be 5 years old in May and is sired by Bonner. His dam was a dark chestnut sorrel by Gold Dust, and his grand dam was of the Justin Morgan stock of horses.

Startle will also be kept for service and can be seen at the Cummings House stables.

DR. WARNER'S celebrated Coraline Health Corsets have one peculiarity which pertains only to corsets of their make. The bust retains its shape to the end, and the corset imparts to the wearer a well-proportioned and beautiful figure. The corset is boned with Coraline, a substance superior to the finest whalebone. Made in short, medium and extra long waists.

There are many imitations, but you will find "Dr. Warner's Coraline" printed on the inside of every genuine corset. They are sold by your nearest dry goods dealer.

THE CENSUS QUESTION.

Commissioner Porter Gives His Views on the Subject.

THE OBNOXIOUS QUERIES

If They Are Not Finally Answered the Cases Must Be Turned Over to the Department of Justice to Be Dealt with by the Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Commissioner Porter smiled when shown sundry newspaper extracts prophesying what indignant citizens would do when put upon the inquisitorial rack by his census enumerators and requested to answer questions about the mental and physical disabilities of members of their families and the encumbrances on their real estate.

"As regards these matters," said he, "no citizen need give himself any uneasiness. Our enumerators will not make nuisances of themselves. They will present the questions politely, and if any person sees fit not to answer he will not be pressed by the enumerator, whose duty ends with the single asking. If an answer is refused the enumerator will simply note that fact on the return he sends to headquarters.

"As it is possible that some persons would not feel disposed to answer questions put by one of their neighbors, and take the risk of their affairs becoming a topic of neighborhood gossip, there will be sent, to all persons who so refuse, a circular from the bureau direct, asking them to please submit answers in writing, and in a sealed envelope, to the commissioner

What He Must Do.

"Here, of course, the chances are that nobody who knows them from Adam will ever see one of these answers. The papers will be thrown in with thousands, perhaps millions, of others, and put through the machine as if there were no personal significance attached to them. If any one so appealed to still refuses, I have no course left to me but to turn over his case to the department of justice to be dealt with as the attorney general sees fit.

"My duty is simply to make a compilation of certain statistics which the law calls for. I have nothing to do with any prosecutions that may grow out of refusals to answer questions. All those matters are to be settled between the persons refusing to answer and the federal law authorities. If a man prefers paying his lawyer's fees and his fines to answering questions, of course, that is his affair. I don't believe we shall have many cases to report, though, for most of the excitement thus far has probably been worked up for newspaper effect."

The Legal Authority.

"You are sure of having full legal authority to ask all these questions?"

"The questions about property are as sharply defined by the terms of the law as any one could ask to have them, certainly; while questions as to physical and mental disabilities are asked in every country in Europe, and are as old in this country as the fifth census. Why should they so suddenly have been discovered to be an outrage? They are of great scientific importance, for upon the proportion of defectives must be based, to a large extent, our estimates of a nation's strength, and the influence of its peculiar civilization upon the people.

"Take France, for example, with her 36,000,000 population and her 2,000,000 persons who are in some way affected by disease, or mental incapacity, or lack of one or more of the normal senses. No one could question the importance of statistics touching one-eighteenth—5½ per cent.—of the entire population of that country.

The Value of the Census.

"In my judgment, the feeling which is represented as having been aroused in some quarters is much exaggerated in the description, and what there is of it is not destined to be long lived. No sane person pretends to deny the value of a census, on general principles, in our day; and yet, less than a century and a half ago, they raised the greatest outcry in England over the very idea of outraging the privacy of British subjects by such an inquisition."

"But if, in spite of legal prosecutions and every other agency employed in the work, there still remain a number of persons who will not furnish the information sought?"

"We can go on without them. They will not necessarily affect our percentages."

It Was a Bloody Affair.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 28.—Tondre Bros.' vineyard, near Los Lunas, was the scene of a bloody affair. A horse race was in progress, when a quarrel ensued between two Americans, John and Philip Conway, and a Mexican, Vincent Artiga. All the parties were drunk, and Artiga, who is a dangerous fellow in that condition, commenced firing on the brothers. John fell, shot through the head, and expired in a few minutes, while Philip was struck with a bullet in the breast and fatally wounded. Demetrio Ballegos was in range and received a shot through one of his legs. The murderer was arrested and taken to Los Lunas jail in irons.

She Feared Her Father.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—A 17-year-old Mexican girl, Victoria Marisco, committed suicide through fear that she would be forced to return to her father. Two years ago she was taken from him because he brutally beat her and gave her no schooling. A few days ago her father appeared and told her guardian he was going to get his child again. This alarmed Victoria, and she declared she would rather die than return to him. This fear preyed on her, and when her guardian was away she took poison and died before relief came.

His Resignation Demanded.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28.—The Presbyterian preachers of Indianapolis at a meeting here denounced President Schaffer, of the Street Railway company, for running extra cars Sunday to a suburban resort of doubtful character, managed by Siam Coy. They demanded his resignation of the position of president of the Indianapolis Young Men's Christian association. They assert that their demand is in accordance with the sentiment of Christian people of the city.

Wheelmen Prize Winners.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., May 28.—The annual tournament of the Canadian Association of Amateur Wheelmen took place here and was taken part in by many notable American riders, among them Lumsden, of Chicago, who took second prize to Windle's first in the one mile bicycle race, open to all. Other winners of events were Campbell, Carmen, Iven, Pascoe and Glass, all Americans.

THE OWEGO NATIONAL BANK.

The Excitement Over the Suspension Is Getting to Be Intense.

BINGHAMTON, May 28.—In the judgment of leading citizens there is a shortage in the accounts of C. A. Thompson, cashier of the Owego National bank, to the extent of $75,000. Others, more conservative, state that it will not exceed $20,000. The excitement is greater than at any time since 1855, when the Bank of Owego collapsed for $80,000.

Thompson's speculations, which are the cause of the bank's failure, appear to have been confined to his dealings with the Big Four, through James F. Dee, the Owego correspondent of the Exchange. Dee still insists that Thompson was not concerned in the Rock Island, in which $30,000 is involved. The fact that Thompson some years ago lost $50,000 in wheat is regarded as pertinent. He has lately transferred considerable property to his creditors, and deeds of other property, executed some time ago, have recently been placed on record. He is vice president of the Nebraska Banking and Loan association, doing business at McCook, Neb., and owns property in New York and Brooklyn.

The amount on deposit at the time the bank's doors were closed was about $56,000, of which $12,000 belonged to stockholders and directors. C. E. Parker, county judge of Tioga county and one of the stockholders, says that he has not the slightest idea that the bank will be reorganized. James F. Dee says that his career as a broker in Owego is at an end. Bank Examiner Goteman, of Albany, refuses to make any statement, and Thompson is equally non-committal, except to declare that if pushed to the wall he will expose two of Owego's most substantial citizens, who are implicated in the shortage.

BRIEF MENTION.

Herman Fitzgerald a year ago confessed to having committed the crime of arson, of which he was innocent, in order to be sent to jail for a short time to escape from some people in Perry county, Pa., who were tormenting him. He was sent to the Western penitentiary for ten years and six months and then confessed the facts, and was on the eve of receiving a pardon when he died of a fever.

The Hudson county grand jury at Jersey City presented sixty-eight indictments against election officers in the First, Second and Third districts. Four members of the jury presented a minority report, in which they bewailed the fact that the indictments were made out on only one count instead of on six.

The state law provides that veterans shall be removed for cause only, on charges preferred and proven.

In the United States senate the naval appropriation bill was further considered. The motion to strike out the provision for three battle ships was voted down and an appropriation inserted for a dry dock at Port Royal, S. C. The bill was then passed.

President Harrison appointed the members-at-large of the World's fair commission, including Peter A. B. Widener, of Philadelphia, with John W. Chalfant as alternate, and Edwin H. Ammidown, of New York, with Gorton W. Allen, of New York, as alternate.

Suffocated by Foul Air.

CENTER CITY, Minn., May 28.—Albin Petersen and Gust Carlson, two young men living six miles north of this place, went down a well Sunday evening and were suffocated by foul air. Their bodies have just been recovered.

The Situation Is Serious.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 28.—A most serious situation has been created by the objection to the proposal of the British minister at Washington that a modus vivendi govern Behring sea pending the settlement of the differences in regard to the respective rights of American and Canadian seal hunters, and by the dispatch of the Bear to those waters with instructions to act towards vessels of a friendly power in a manner that would be nothing short of a declaration of war. The seal hunters of British Columbia have gone to sea under the impression that the three mile rule is in force, and if the orders of the captain of the Bear are what they are said to be, peaceful people in the two countries may look forward to the seal hunting season with appreoension.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 28.—Governor Buckner has issued a proclamation calling for an election to be held on June 21 in the Sixth district to select a successor in congress to John G. Carlisle.

Killed by an Explosion.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 28.—An officer and four sailors were killed by an explosion which occurred in the torpedo factory at Nikolaiev, government of Kherson, in southern Russia.

THEY MET TWO STORMS

The First One Was Only a Little Bit of a Rain Squall.

THE SECOND WAS MUTINY.

The Captain and Mate of the Ship John Harvey Tell the Story of Their Tumultuous Voyage and Deny the Charges Made by the Cabin Boy.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Capt. Harvey Stewart and Mate Phelan, of the ship John Harvey, which has arrived here, deny the charges of cruelty made against them by Ernest M. Young, who was formerly a cabin boy of the ship, and tell instead a tale of mutiny that resulted in one seaman being put ashore at the island of Barbadoes for his part in the affair.

Young arrived in New York on Saturday, and told a terrible story of cruelty to the crew of the ship while she was on the way from Montevideo to the island of Barbadoes, British West Indies. He said that the captain and mate had severely beaten two seamen named Smith and Pierson, and had afterward put them in irons for the whole voyage.

Young also alleges that because he smuggled food to the prisoners the captain put him in irons also and, on the arrival of the John Harvey in Barbadoes, put him ashore and left him there without paying the wages due to him. Young was brought to the United States in the man-of-war Pensacola at the request of the United States consul at Barbadoes, E. A. Dimmick.

According to the stories of both captain and mate, the ship John Harvey encountered a good deal of bad weather while on the way from Montevideo to Barbadoes. The ship had half of her mizzenmast carried away and sustained other considerable damage. A few days after the storm Capt. Stewart and the ship's carpenter went aft to repair some damage there.

The Storms.

The majority of the crew were on deck, and Seaman Peter Pierson was at the wheel. A rain squall, which is common in those seas, and lasts only a few minutes, came on, and all the crew made for the fo'castle to get their oilskin coats. Capt. Stewart turned to his son and said:

"In my day sailors wouldn't have run for oilskins on account of a little rain."

Pierson said: "D—— you, perhaps they didn't have any oilskins then."

Capt. Stewart hit the sailor across the face for replying in that manner while at the wheel. Seaman Smith, who had just come on deck, shouted to Pierson, "Hit him, Peter!" and at the same time drew a large knife out of his pocket and ran for the captain.

Mate Phelan, seeing the murderous intent of the man, ran up and caught hold of him. Smith aimed a blow at the mate's head with his knife. The blade missed its mark, but the handle of the knife hit Phelan in the left eye, bruising it severely. The rest of the crew, seeing the fight, rushed at Phelan with mischief in their eyes.

Capt. Stewart had meanwhile rushed below and secured his revolver, and he now came up and, pointing the pistol at the crowd, threatened to shoot the first man that touched the mate. To emphasize his meaning he fired a shot over the heads of the men, and they fell back. Smith and Pierson were then secured and "triced" up, but in such a manner that their feet were allowed to rest firmly on deck.

He Wilted.

Pierson wilted, and, calling the captain to him, begged him to forgive his blow. He was a mild, orderly fellow, and the captain forgave him and released him on his promise not to offend again. Smith was kept triced up for a short time and was then hand cuffed and confined forward. He was kept in irons until the ship arrived in Barbadoes.

There Capt. Stewart stated the fact to Consul Dimmick and asked to have the man arrested. According to the laws of Barbadoes, however, the man could not be detained more than twenty-four hours, and consequently the consul advised Capt. Stewart to pay the man off and discharge him. This the captain did.

The boy Young was shipped from the bark Plymouth at Portland, Me. Her captain stated that he had picked him up in Bristol, where he was a shoeblack. The captain of the Plymouth told Capt. Stewart that the boy was a bad boy, and one of the worst specimens of his class he had ever seen. The boy has an innocent face, however, and Capt. Stewart determined to give him a trial.

On the arrival of the John Harvey in Barbadoes Young refused to do any work and remained idle for nearly thirty days. Consul Dimmick told Young that he had forfeited his wages by refusing to work. The day before the ship sailed Young visited the consul's office. Capt. Stewart saw him there and told him that the ship would sail the next day at 6 a. m., and he must come on board that night or he would be left at Barbadoes. Young didn't come and the John Harvey left the next morning at 6 o'clock.

The Accident to Emperor William.

BERLIN, May 28.—The Tageblatt, in its account of the circumstances attending the accident which occurred to Emperor William on Sunday last as a consequence of his jumping from a carriage, in which he, accompanied by the Prince of Saxe-Meiningen, was riding, says: The emperor jumped at a critical moment, as immediately after his doing so the carriage overturned and fell upon the prince, inflicting a wound upon the back of his head from which the blood flowed profusely. After returning to the palace and indulging in a short rest the emperor felt well enough to accompany the empress on a short steamer excursion, from which they returned at 10 o'clock in the evening. On arriving at the palace the injuries of the emperor were found to be of such a nature as to necessitate the summoning of the court physicians.

A Village Demolished.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.—The village of Repahie, in Armenia, has been destroyed by an earthquake. A number of mineral springs spouted from the crevices made in the earth by the shocks, and the flow of water was so great that the adjacent fields were flooded. The earthquake was preceded by rumblings, which caused the inhabitants to flee from the village, and they thus escaped death from the falling houses. No lives were lost whatever, although every house in the village was completely demolished.

THEY HAD PLENTY OF MONEY.

And Are Believed to Be Silcott and His Companion.

BOSTON, May 28.—A special from Grand Falls, N. B., states that some weeks ago Mr. Mayberry, of the Great Falls hotel, was informed by lumbermen from the province of Quebec of a strange couple seen in St. Louis parish, near the mouth of the Saugenay river, and that by means of photographs which Mr. Mayberry procured from Boston the two were recognized as ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Silcott and the woman known to be with him.

Warrants for their arrest having been obtained, Mayberry wrote for instructions to Boston and Washington. About ten days ago a messenger was sent to find Silcott and his companion. He returned to Grand Falls on Saturday night and reported that the woman had left by the Quebec steamer three days before his arrival, and that the man could not be found.

The two had spent the winter in a small hut which the man had had built about twelve miles back in the woods near a lumber camp, which supplied them with food. The couple pretended to be very poor, but the lumbermen said they had plenty of money. The woman's old wooden box broke on its way to the steamer and was seen to be filled with silk dresses and other finery.

During the winter the strangers had la grippe and came to the settlement for medicine and assistance. Mr. Mayberry has no doubt that the man is Silcott.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

And His Conscience Would Not Allow Him to Keep the Secret.

CHICAGO, May 28.—John Williams, of Leeds, England, 31 years of age, is held at the Central police station as the confessed murderer of Emma Roberts, alias Jones, in November, 1879. Williams walked up to a policeman and told the officer that he was guilty of murder and said his conscience would allow him no longer to keep the awful secret.

At the station, where he was taken, he made a confession to the effect that early in 1879 he met Miss Emma Roberts, alias Jones, a domestic in the employ of a coal merchant named Greenwood in the city of Leeds. After keeping company with her six months he proposed and was rejected. Visiting her a month later Williams renewed his proposal of marriage and was refused. He then knocked her down with his fist and beat her head into an unrecognizable mass with a hammer.

Williams left Leeds immediately, going to Manchester for two days. From there he went to Cardiff, Wales, and shipped as a sailor before the mast. Two years ago he landed in Chicago, and has been making a living as a sailor on the lakes ever since that time. Williams said the girl's parents lived at Westphen Grove, Harpurhey, near Manchester, and that his own parents, now dead, lived at Kilgate, Leeds. The authorities of Leeds have been telegraphed for information.

Stricken with Paralysis.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 28.—N. C. Moak, one of the most brilliant and best known jurists of the state, was stricken with paralysis Tuesday morning, and now lies in a critical condition at his home. He was once district attorney of Albany county and was Governor Hill's choice for the last vacancy in the court of appeals, but declined the honor. He was attorney for Jesse Billings, of Ballston, in the famous murder trial, and succeeded in freeing his client.

An Electric Wire Did It.

CINCINNATI, May 28.—Fire in the Banner brewery Tuesday forenoon caused a loss of about $50,000, mainly in hops, 130,000 pounds of which were consumed. The fire was caused by an electric wire, which set a spark to the roof, and the dropping cinders fell upon the dry hops beneath. The total insurance on the building and stock is $188,000, divided among sixty companies, mostly eastern and foreign. Business will not be suspended.

A Prominent Clothier Dead.

NEWARK, N. J., May 28.—James Marshall, founder of the clothing firm of Marshall & Ball, died at his home in this city, aged 74 years. A widow and two children survive him. The firm had branches at Paterson and Jersey City and was considered one of the most substantial in the state. The estate is said to be very extensive.

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness-swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians everywhere as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Impure Blood

A Pennsylvania Railroad Man Tells of a Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Humor—Read It.

Mr. Ruby, who makes the following statement, is a well known railroad man, running on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Columbia, Penn., and Philadelphia:

"I feel that I wish to tell what has been done for us and our little boy by Hood's Sarsaparilla. He is now six years of age, and, until a short time ago, has ever since birth been a terrible sufferer from scrofulous humor. Sores would appear on him and spread until they were as large as a dollar, and then discharge, only to be followed by others, so that the larger part of his body was one mass of sores all the time. The scrofula was especially severe on his legs and back of his ears and on his head. His hair was so matted that combing was sometimes impossible. His ears became so thin that we could see through them, and were actually

AFRAID THEY WOULD DROP OFF.

His legs were so bad that sometimes he could not sit down, and it was impossible for him to run about and play like other children. Frequently when he tried to walk, his leg would crack open and the blood start from different places. The humor had a very offensive odor, and caused intense itching, so that at night we had to tie his hands in mittens or stockings to prevent his scratching and tearing himself. We cannot tell

HOW THAT POOR BOY SUFFERED

for nearly five years, nor how his terrible condition distressed us. We did all we could to relieve him. Two or three physicians agreed in calling it scrofulous humor, but did not effect a cure. We tried salves and ointments, and other things but without benefit. At last I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, as

MY DRUGGIST RECOMMENDED IT.

In about two weeks the Sarsaparilla began to have effect. The sores commenced to heal up; the flesh began to look more natural and healthy. Then the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles he was entirely free from sores, having only the scars to show where they had been. These are gradually disappearing. The little fellow was to Hood's Sarsaparilla when he found it was curing him, and he would call for 'My medicine' when the time came for him to take it. We are unable to express our thanks for the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done our little boy." HARRY K. RUBY, Box 356, Columbia, Pa.

FULL OF GRATITUDE

A Later Letter

From Mr. Ruby states that his son is now in perfect health, has no trouble from the humor, which is entirely cured. He has many inquiries about the recovery of the boy, and advises all who suffer with such diseases to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

What Can be Added

To the above statement to make more emphatic the evidence of the cleansing effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla upon the blood? It would seem to be the positive duty of all who suffer from any disease or affection caused by impure blood, to at least give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. Its many wonderful cures have won for it the title of "the greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Every Confidence.

"Among the few proprietary articles I recommend to customers Hood's Sarsaparilla is one in which I place every confidence. My patrons seem to have the same confidence, judging from its sale, which is more than all the other blood purifiers together." G. B. LITTLE, Druggist, Greensburg, Pa.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Pretty Good for a Man of 56.

The following is from Mr. John Hines, manufacturer of enameled dies, who has carried on business in Philadelphia since Oct. 9, 1850, and whose testimonial in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla is certainly worthy of consideration.

"One year ago I was laid up sick with pneumonia for 14 weeks. When I got over that, my feet and legs swelled, were very much inflamed, and caused me much suffering. The doctor said I had gout, which I did not believe. I tried a number of cures, of no avail. Then some one asked me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so. I took it three times a day, before meals. Before I had taken one bottle I began to improve. I took in all five bottles, which cured me and made me feel well otherwise. I have had no return of the affection. Can walk ten miles every day, which is pretty good for a man 56 years old. I feel grateful for the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me, and have used my influence with a number of people to try it, and so far with satisfactory results." JOHN HINES, 40 North 30th Street, Philadelphia, Penn.

Cancerous Sore.

"About 7 years ago I had a cancerous sore on my nose, which grew to be very troublesome and offensive. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using two bottles the sore disappeared and healed up entirely. It has been cured for two years with no appearance of its returning. I am now in my eightieth year and enjoying good health. I feel it my duty to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all persons suffering from similar troubles. Be sure to get Hood's." JOSIAH HARVEY, Delmont, Westmoreland Co., Penn.

Confirmatory Statement.

"The above certificate is from Josiah Harvey, insurance agent, a gentleman well known throughout Westmoreland county. His statement in regard to the sore and cure performed is correct." Z. ZIMMERMAN, Druggist, Delmont, Penn.

N. B. If you decide, from what you have heard or read, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs, Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill.. makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she she was treated for a month by her family physician. but grew worse, He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption she bought a bottle and to her elight found herself benefited from first dose. She contiuued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own houswork and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1,00. At the New York hospital. Surgeon—'What brought you to this dreadful condition? Were you run over by a street car?'

Patient—'No, sir; I fainted, and was brought to by a member of the Society of First Aid to the Injured,'

Husband—What a beautiful hat you have no.

Wife—What do you men know about ladies costumes?

We know how much they cost.

Mrs Crimsonbeak—Well, what did the doctor say?

Mr Crimsonbeak—He said my system was out of order.

'What are you doing for it?'

'Oh, I'm going to try the doctor's system for a little while.'

Mr. Flounder—Excuse my embarrassment, Miss La Mode, but I love you and want you to marry me.

Miss La Mode—Oh, Mr. Flounder, this—is—so—this—is—so—sudden.

I know it is, darling, but I wanted to give you a pleasant surprise.

Ulcerated Sore Throat.

Two yers ago I had Ulcerated Sore Throat, and was so weakened and reduced in flesh that my friends thought it impossible for me to recover. I was atended by the very best physicians, but, their endeavors to relieve me were futile My mother seeing SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S.S.S.) so highly recommended, decided to give me a course of it, and after taking several bottles I was entirely cured. I have not had any signs of a return of the disease since.

The Grandest He Ever Saw.

Mr. W. J. Colman, a prominent citizen of Gainesville, Fla., writes the following under date of Feb. 10, 1390: "I contracted a severe case of Contagious Blood Poison that gave a great deal of trouble, and baffled the physicians of this place. I was finally advised to try SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S. S. S.) and I can say, with great pleasure, that a few bottles of it has entirely cured me. I have no hesitancy in saying that S. S. S. is the grandest blood medicine I ever saw, and can cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering as I was."

A Valuable Lot of Choice Wines.

Some time since we stopped at Passac, N. J., and were really surprised to see the amount of Mr. Speer's stock of grape wine on hand; it is almost fabulous. Four storehouses are filled and tiers upon tiers, of casks, up and down stairs, and in some vases huge vats, occupy every available spot, leaving only little alleyways, through which to walk. It is a vast quanity of wine. None is sold until it has acquired the age of four years, and the buildings 1, 2, 3, and 4, are of the first, second, third, and 4th years vintage. Our druggists have supplies of the oldest above wine direct from M. Speer.—Paterson Guardian.

How it Was.

At the battle of Gettys burg I was shot through the left leg and was sent to the hospital. The army surgeons relievee me but pronounded my case incurable. It discharged pieces of my bone, and for years I have suffered with a running sore. I tried everything which my limited means would allow, and experienced no relief until I tried Sulphur Bitters. I am now almost well and shall continue their use.—Old Soldier.

A Big Tumor

Some time last winter there appeared in the columns of the Bangor Commercial a description of a remarkable cure effected by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla upon the person of Reuben Severance, a well known and highly esteemed citizen of Upper Stillwater, Me.

With a view to placing the facts in the case of Mr. Severance beyond dispute, and to present them in such a form as to satisfy the doubts of the most incredulous, a party of several gentlemen, including Mr. Warren, of the Brown's Sarsaparilla Company, and Ex-Governor Davis, drove out a few days ago to the pleasant residence of Mr. Severance. His story as taken down from his own lips and sworn to before Gov. Davis, appears below.

Disappears by the Use of

I, Reuben Severance, of Upper Stillwater, Me., do make the following statement of facts:

About fourteen years ago a tumor came in my groin. It was at first about the size of a pea and did not trouble me much. It gradually increased in size, however, and was accompanied by severe, darting pains. My whole system became disordered. My food did not digest; had attacks of dizziness; roaring sounds in my ears; palpitation of the heart, which seemed at times to come up in my throat; passed many sleepless nights. In the summer of 1885, the tumor had grown to such size that it extended nearly the whole distance to the knee, and weighed, I should think, at least six or seven pounds. I was obliged to have my pants cut very large in the leg to accommodate the swelling. It was the source of much mortification as well as suffering to me. At this time the symptoms grew rapidly more acute. The least exertion or strain upon the affected part would cause intense, tearing pain, like the sticking of needles into the flesh. I finally was obliged to abandon work entirely and took to my bed. I abandoned hope and prayed for death to relieve my sufferings. Physicians examined me and said that nothing could relieve me but the cutting out of the tumor, and that the chances were that I would die under the operation. The risk they believed to be too great to justify it. At this time I commenced taking Brown's Sarsaparilla as a kind of forlorn hope. I experienced an immediate change for the better; my appetite returned; food ceased to trouble me; the ringing noise left my head, and best of all the tumor began to shrivel up and disappear. It is now, and has been for some time, entirely gone. I feel twenty-five years younger than I did a year ago; my general health has never been better. I can and do work from morning to night, and enjoy being able to do so. Only two or three days ago I worked in the hay field all day mowing heavy grass. I say God bless the man who invented this medicine. He should wear a crown. I mean always to keep a bottle of Brown's Sarsaparilla by me while I live.

(Signed) REUBEN SEVERANCE.

THE LONGUE POINTE HORROR.

A Pastoral Letter by Archbishop Fabre on the Awful Holocaust.

MONTREAL, May 28.—Archbishop Fabre has issued a pastoral letter on the recent Longue Pointe Insane asylum fire, in which he says:

"This calamity being a public event must be accepted with sentiments of penance and filial submission. It might be a solemn warning to our country, in which religion is indeed being honored and observed generally, but in which, nevertheless, we have only too often to point out the existence of disorders which are becoming unbearably frequent. If we but recall the terrible threats of our Lord against those who profane the Lord's day, we might be less surprised to see that God inflicts upon us such chastisements."

The pastoral thanks all who lent a helping hand in the hour of need, and orders a special collection in the churches next Sunday for the relief of the patients, and asks for contributions by donation.

Must Show Cause or Go to Jail.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 28.—Judge Thayer, of the superior court, has signed an order calling on ex-Lieutenant Governor J. L. Howard, of this city; ex-Congressman G. M. Landers, of New Britain, and Hon. D. S. Plume, of Waterbury, the three Connecticut directors of the New York and New England railroad, to show cause June 8 why they should not be committed to jail for contempt in refusing to take up the tracks on Church street, this city, as ordered by the superior and supreme court of the state. The company claims that the supersedeas of Judge Blatchford, of the United States supreme court, stays the proceedings.

Who Got the Money?

KANSAS CITY, May 28.—The committee appointed by the city council to investigate the condition of the city treasury has made a report. The committee reported that there was missing from the treasury $10,026 and asked for further time to determine who is responsible for the shortage—Treasurer Peake alone or other employes in the office. Further time was granted. Chief Clerk Horace McKim has been relieved from duty by the committee pending a more complete investigation.

Brutally Assassinated.

NEWPORT, Ark., May 28.—Harrison Sailor and wife, two respectable and inoffensive negroes living near Riverside, Woodruff county, were brutally assassinated at their home by unknown persons. A large meeting was held here, at which much indignation was expressed and resolutions denouncing the outrage were adopted and calling upon the governor to offer a suitable reward for the apprehension of the perpetrators.

Forged His Father's Name.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Isaac Bulifant, of the firm of Bulifant Bros. & Co., of this city, has confessed that notes aggregating $2,000 which he had negotiated through the Northern Liberties bank, of this city, purporting to be signed by his father, J. W. T. Bulifant, of Petersburg, Va., are forgeries. The father had denied making the notes and the bank recently entered suit against him at Petersburg. The son has been arrested.

HE WAS A TERROR.

So They Tied Him to a Tree and Shot Him to Death.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 28.—John Starling, living near Selma, in Johnson county, was surrounded by a party of masked men while on his way home last Saturday night, tied to a tree, and shot to death, twenty bullets being put into his body. He had made some threats against a peaceable citizen, and was returning home from a magistrate's trial, where he had been to answer to summons of a peace warrant. His wife was in the wagon with him. The mob threw a rope over his head, dragged him out, and carried him far enough in the woods to prevent her from being an [illegible] to his fate.

[illegible]e ago an old lady named Cenis [illegible] her grandson were foully mur- [illegible]ohnston county. Mrs. Brown [illegible]ng's mother-in-law, and there [illegible]founded suspicion that Starling [illegible]er that he might get possession [illegible]perty through his wife. He was [illegible]e charge of murder, but he had [illegible]ed the community that it was impossible to get any one to testify against him, and he was acquitted for want of sufficient evidence to convict.

Later on the houses of two persons who made themselves conspicuous in the trial against him were burned. People of this community thought this was Starling's work of vengeance. They determined to submit to his terrorization no longer, and on Saturday night they banded together, took him from his wagon and left his lifeless body hanging to a tree.

The Lottery War.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 28.—Both houses of the general assembly adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Senator Barrow. This is the week, according to the statement of a lottery worker, the corruption fund was to be used. The antis are confident that money will shake none of their men. The lottery men have announced that no legislation shall be had until their measure is voted on, and as they will not introduce it until they are assured of its passage, this practically blocks legislation until the lottery have bought enough legislators to effect their purpose or until the session expires by limitation. The line of the antis remains unbroken, while the lottery men have lost two by death and one by absence in Virginia. Snyder, of Tensas, has been nominated to succeed Dr. McCulloch, deceased, in the house. He is claimed by the lottery men.

John Was Dynamite Proof.

MERRILL, Wis., May 28.—An attempt was made here to blow up a Chinese laundry with dynamite. The floor was blown into splinters, the machinery and furniture wrecked and the windows smashed. Three Chinamen were asleep in the building when the explosion occurred. The door was blown off its hinges into the bed occupied by Yep Same, the proprietor. The inmates were not injured in the least. There is no clew.

They Defrauded the City.

MADISON, Wis., May 28.—The common council of this city, without a dissenting vote, expelled Aldermen John F. King and F. C. Sheasby, and removed from office W. H. Hughes, chief of the fire department. All the men were charged with conspiracy to defraud the city in the purchase of 1,000 feet of hose.

Arrested!

Charles A. Daley was arrested last evening for stealing from the drug store of Shiefman, a bottle of Sulphur Bitters. Before the court this morning, upon being asked why he should steal, he stated that his mother was troubled with Rheumatism, and that it was the only medicine that helped her, and being out of money and work was the cause of his stealing. As this was his first offence he was put on probation.—Newark News.

Howard Happenings.

Another new building is being erected by Welch and Niesley; where they, in the near future, expect to manufacture wagons, buggies, etc. They are both energetic young men and we predict their enterprise will be a success.

D. W. Pletcher, the expert stair builder, is about completing B. Weber's house. The building is a very handsome one.

The fifth wheel factory is still in operation. The fire on Wednesday evening, which partly destroyed the ventilator did not injure the building enough to stop work.

John B. Holter came home on Tuesday from Jefferson county to attend the funeral of Mrs. T. S. Moore.

To day Mr. A. T. Lucas, our new P. M., takes charge of the mail at Howard.

The memorial sermon was preached at 10.20 o'clock Sunday by Elder Blair of Eagleville,

The Republicans of Howard have been looking around for a proper person from our locality for a candidate for county commissioner, but at present we have not found a man willing to step into the ranks. But then we are glad to see that the list is already large enough that good selections can easily be made.

SAPOLIO is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. If your store-keeper does not keep it you should insist upon his doing so, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG COAL BILL.

Fifty Thousand Tons Burned Annually in the Washington Department.

"There is no money in supplying Uncle Sam with coal," said a big dealer in that article to a Washington Post reporter. "We who contract to deliver portions of the vast quantity of anthracite and bituminous fuel used in the departments figure on our bids so as to come out without a loss, and that is all. Not a cent as a rule do we expect to make.

"Why do we accept the job, then? Simply for glory. And yet, to be frank with you, it is not for glory in the ordinary sense. I shall be putting it plainer if I say that the award of Government contracts for coal give a merchant prestige and advertises his regular business. For that reason it is that we are willing to sell goods to Uncle Sam at cost price."

"But you don't put in the coal at your own expense, surely?" queried the reporter.

"Hardly. We reckon that in as part of the cost. Suppose a ton of coal on the track costs $4, we add ten cents for putting in and twenty cents for inspection, making it cost $4.30 delivered. That twenty cents has to be paid on every ton of coal delivered at the Departments according to law.

"Upon delivery the Government inspectors see that it is good weight and of satisfactory quality. Or they may inspect the coal at the yard if it is more convenient. We have to pay the inspectors out of our own pocket. You can see that their work is not unprofitable when you consider the fact that the Government uses 50,000 tons of coal each year. This allows $10,000 for inspection. In fact, the inspectors are the people who make the money on the stuff.

'Which of the departments uses most coal?'

'The Department of the Interior—10,000 tons are burned up every twelve months: Next comes the District government, which uses in its various buildings, including the public schools, 6,000 tons. The navy-yard consumes 5,000 tons. In the insane asylum 4,000 tons annually are burned. The building of the State, War and Navy uses 3,500 tons, and the Capitol 3.000 tons for both wings.

'Twenty-five hundred tons are consumed by the Quartermaster's Department and 2,000 tons by the Treasury, The Bureau of Engraving and Printing burns 2,000 tons, the Government Printing Office 1,500 tons, the Postoffice 1,000 tons, the Freedmen's Hospital 300 tons, the Botanic Garden 300 tons, and the War Department bureau 500 tons. Odds and ends here and there will make up the total to 50,000 tons easily.'

'What is the average price paid by the Government for its coal?'

'For hard coal $5, and for the soft, which comes from Cumberland county, Maryland, $3.25. Probably the Government pays $210,000 for coal annually. Soft coal is used at the Navy yard, where it is preferable for running the machinery in the shops; also, in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and in the Government Printing Office for the same reason.

'Three-fourths of the coal used in in the Treasury Building is soft, the heating being done by steam. Hard coal exclusively is consumed at the Capitol, both on the House and on the Senate side. Sometimes we make our contracts with Uncle Sam on a sort of gambling basis. That is to say we make our bid at the current market price; if coal goes up five cents a ton we lose, while if it goes down five cents we earn something.'

A Free Musical Education.

In the May issue of that excellent musical magazine, the Philadelphia Musical Journal, the publishers make a most generous offer to give a first-class musical education absolutely without cost, to the young men and women of America who possess talent for music and are without means to secure for themselves the necessary instruction to develop that talent. This is an offer that should not be allowed to pass unnoticed, and if any of our readers know of a boy or girl whose one desire in life is to be perfected in music and who has not the money to spend for an education, they should call his or her attention to this opportunity. By sending $1.00 for a year's subscription, or 10 cents for a sample copy, to the Philadelphia Musical Journal, 1416 and 1418 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, one may learn full particulars.

Brought to Jail.

On Friday John Page, the constable of Penn township, brought to Bellefonte and lodged in the county jail two men named Reynolds and Burd, arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct and for forcibly entering the boarding house of Al. Klinefelter, at Poe Mills, Pa., and frightening the inmates, smashing furniture, and otherwise having a "deal of a time." The act was done on Thursday night and, Mr. Klinefelter not being at home, Mrs. K., in company with another woman walked to Coburn, a distance of 6 miles, through the mud and dark, to the home of the Constable to have him go and arrest the man. The miscreants deserve severe punishment for such actions.

STANLEY'S WARNINGS.

England Heeds Them and Sends an Expedition to Africa.

THE PANITZA CONSPIRACY.

The Russian Minister to Bucharest Summoned to St. Petersburg to Be Censured for the Bungling Manner in Which He Handled the Plot.

LONDON, May 24.—Sir Francis de Winton, Sir John Willoughby and Capts. Smith and Williams departed from London for Southeast Africa in the interest of the British East Africa company, and it is expected that active results will follow their arrival there. It is stated that exceptional powers have been granted by the government to Sir Francis, comprising authority to take any action that may seem to him best calculated to conserve the interests of England in Africa and at the same time extend her sphere of influence.

Stanley Heeded.

It is an open secret that this step has been taken in deference to the recommendation and warnings of Mr. Stanley, who has persistently contended since his arrival here that Germany's activity was rapidly drawing to her the influence in Africa that England was losing by her apathy.

The German government, through its representatives in the anti-slavery conference in Brussels, is exerting a powerful influence in favor of the abolition of free trade in the Congo state, and it is understood that unless the powers consent to the imposition of duties upon imports King Leopold will be compelled to sell the Congo country to England.

The United States in Africa.

The chief opponent of the imposition of import taxation in the Congo state is, singularly enough, the highly protected United States government, which is contesting the competency of the conference to impose the proposed taxation.

It is announced in Berlin that Maj. Wissmann will arrive in that city about the end of June. Rumor alleges that his visit is at the instance of the government and with a view of obtaining the major's counsel in the organization of an African campaign on an extended scale. This report is supported by the recruiting operations of Lieut. Gravenreuth.

He Will Be Censured.

M. Hitroro, the Russian minister to Bucharest, has been summoned to St. Petersburg to receive the censure of his government for the bungling manner in which he managed the Panitza conspiracy against the life of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria. When the plot was discovered M. Hitroro was openly accused of having instigated it, and the accusation has never been refuted.

The ostensible reason for his recall is to enable him to exculpate himself from the charge of complicity, but beyond doubt the real reason is that he is to be disciplined for failing to carry the conspiracy to a successful issue.

Labor Riots.

Labor riots still continue at Nurschan. Already sixteen men have been killed and a large number wounded. The strikes are spreading and the local authorities have confessed their inability to restore order and asked the assistance of the military.

They Have a Daughter.

COPENHAGEN, May 24.—A daughter has been born to Princess Louise, wife of Crown Prince Frederick.

Thinks He's Gone to Alaska.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 24.—On board the night train which left here Tuesday evening over the Great Northern railroad was Edward J. Cattell, the St. Paul manager of the brokerage house of Walker & Company, of Chicago. Thursday morning's Northwestern train from Chicago brought here E. C. Walker, senior partner of the firm. Soon after Mr. Walker's appearance here a rumor became current on the street and in the clubs that Mr. Cattell was short in his accounts and had run away. All sorts of stories were told, and in some quarters it was stated that Cattell had misappropriated between $40,000 and $50,000. Mr. Cattell has wealthy relatives in New York and Philadelphia, and at the time of his sudden departure was engaged to the daughter of one of St. Paul's leading citizens. One of his acquaintances says he thinks Cattell has gone to Alaska, as he had recently heard him express a strong desire to go there.

The Child Lisped Its Father's Crime.

CHICAGO, May 24.—At 12:15 o'clock Friday morning Mrs. Wilhemina Catharine Thiesen, the wife of Jacob Thiesen, a saloon keeper at the southeast corner of Harrison and Jefferson streets, was found lying on the floor in a rear room of the saloon with a bullet in her head. The woman was taken to the county hospital and her husband locked up in Maxwell street station. Their little daughter, aged 5 years, says her mother shot herself. Their little boy, about 3 years old, lisped that his father shot her. Both Thiesen and his wife had been drinking. The doctor, who was called and dressed the wound, is of the opinion that the woman cannot recover.

Trying to Kill the Trust.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 24.—The binding twine row is raging again. The committee of investigation, Messrs. Hall and Lothrop, of the Farmers' alliance, and Messrs. O'Brien and Temple, of the state prison board, have returned from their eastern mission and are preparing a report. It will recommend that binding twine be manufactured at the state prison. This is in direct opposition to the report of the committee of prison inspectors, who formerly investigated the question, and is an effort on the part of the Farmers' alliance to give a death blow to the binding twine

—We would respectfully inform our Centre Hall brother that we must plead ignorance, of the contents of an "original package" and ask him for an explanation.

—Judge Bucher was up in the Centre county mountains last week, and went home with a trout measuring 15 inches. That's almost as long as the Lycoming judicial contest.

—That turnout of Dr. Meeker's, that was seen on the streets of Bellefonte Friday evening, was quite a nobby one. That colored gentleman is somewhat of a musician in his line.

—John Weaver Sr, of Poe valley, died a few weeks ago, aged about 88 years. He was a bachelor, and a brother to Andrew Weaver who was murdered in Penn twp. last winter.

—If the police want to protect the county property why not arrest the cows that pasture in the court house yard? This is the question asked by the "boys," and it is a "poser."

—Rev. Miles O.Noll was ordained and installed pastor of the Bellefonte Reformed church on Friday evening, Rev. G. W. Gearhart, of Lock Haven, preaching the installation sermon.

—The post office department has directed that hereafter letters on which the postage is not paid shall be forwarded promptly, and that double postage be collected at the point of delivery.

—The Millheim Journal says: Recorder Harter and H. L. Stein wear the belt among the trout fishers in this town. Both are able to catch between fifty and a hundred of the speckled beauties in a half day.

—The uptown paper has just now "got onto" the fact that the County Commissioners would this year reduce the tax levy to 2 mills instead of 2½ as it was last year. The DAILY NEWS gave that information over two months ago.

—We are informed that Mr. Ellenberger, the great pitcher for the State College base ball nine, has received a very good offer from the manager of the Lebanon team to play with that nine. Mr. Ellenberger will probably accept.

—Let law makers and politicians bear in mind that the farming interests need to be cared for as much as any other in the land, and that there has been too much legislation that afforded certain interests opportunities to prey upon the farmers.

—The Board of Pardons, sitting in Harrisburg Tuesday, refused the application made to it by his counsel for the pardon of Edward C. Loveland, of Lock Haven, the destroyer of the happiness of a confiding young woman and the indirect cause of her death by malpractice. Truly a righteous decision.

—Persons in Bellefonte complain that the riding of bicycles on the pavements is becoming a nuisance. The other day a prominent gentleman was run into and knocked down by one of these two wheeled horses. Bicyclists should be more careful, and especially when they are on the pavements.

—Within the past two weeks Willis Clouser, of Centre township, Perry county, has lost five children by diptheria, the fifth having been buried Tuesday. The children ranged in age from 17 down to 5 years, and the eldest is said to have contracted the disease while on a visit to Newport. No other family in the neighborhood has been attacked by the deadly visitor.

—It has been suggested that the borough lay a crossing on Allegheny street in front of the court house, to begin at the "Angel" fountain and run down to the pavement from First National Bank across to Brokerhoff House. This would be a great convenience as now in order to come down street from the Court house one is obliged to make a detour of half a square.

THE REFORMED CLASSIS.

Twenty-Seven Ministerial and Lay Delegates are Convened in Session.

The West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church embraces the counties of Snyder, Union, Clinton, Centre, and parts of Lycoming and Juniata. There are present at the Classis twenty-seven ministerial and lay delegates.

The Classis began on Wednesday evening when Rev. W. A. Haas, of Selinsgrove, preached the opening sermon.

Thursday morning the officers of Classis for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Rev. G W Gearhart, of Lock Haven; Stated Clerk and Treasurer, Rev. W A Haas, of Selinsgrove; corresponding Secretary, Rev. A A Black, of Boalsburg.

Following the election of officers was the reading of the reports by ministers for the past year. This was continued until noon. In the afternoon the election of delegates to the United States General Synod was proceeded with and resulted as follows:

Ministerial delegates Rev. L D Steckle, of Mifflinburg, and Rev. D O Shoemaker of Jacksonville. Lay delegates; D S Keller, Esq., of Bellefonte, and Jos. K Moyer. The general Synod meets at Lebanon, this state.

After the election of delegates the pastor's reports were again heard. Rev. S. H. Isenenrg, Pastor of the Pennsvalley charge, handed in a very good report which shows the church in that valley to be in a good condition.

The committee on licensure and ordination recommended M. O Noll and J. Lucian Roush for license, and M O Noll for ordination and installation. The ordination and installation services was held Friday evening in the church at 7.45 o'clock. At the same time James Brown, of Allentown, who appears with license, will be ordained and installed. Mr. Noll will then assume the pastorate of the Bellefonte charge and Mr. Brown the Rebersburg charge, this county.

Through Penns Valley.

For several nights past a large bear has been discovered feeding on a dead horse north of Oak Landing, near Cherry Run.

On Monday forenoon Mrs. Henry Vonada, of Haines township, died at her residence near Pine Creek, aged 64 years. She had been afflicted with rheumatism for the past fifteen years which, turning into inflammatory rheumatism, caused her death.

Mrs. William Smith, of Woodward, died on the same day of consumption. Aged about 40 years.

The Ladies Mite Society of the Reformed church at Aaronsburg, will hold a festival on the afternoon and evening of May 31st. The Aaronsburg band will be in attendance.

Millheim has a model council, according to the Journal, of that place; one that can, and is not afraid to, transact business.

A Former Bellefonte Boy Married.

We have received information that Mr. S. Frank Van Ormer and Miss Bertha M. Weaver were married at the M E. Parsonage in Altoona, by Rev. H. R. Bender on Tuesday, May 13th. The ceremony was private on account of the ill health of the bride's father. About twelve years ago the groom's parents, Mr. J. S. Van Ormer's were residents of Millheim, this county. After leaving that place Frank resided for several years in Bellefonte, working in the Centre Democrat office. He is now a well known young business man of Altoona. Before settling there however, he spent two years on the Pacific Coast, visiting many places of interest. He chose for his life partner a most excellent and cultured young lady whose home is in Valier, Jefferson county, where the happy couple will go in a few days to commence housekeeping.

The W. C. T. U. Convention.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Centre county, which convened in this place on Thursday, was not as largely attended as it had been on previous occasions. Only nineteen delegates were present. The meetings were held in the rooms of the W. C. T. U. in Crider's Exchange, and the programme as printed in this paper on Wednesday was carried out in detail. On Thursday evening about 400 assembled in the Court House to listen to the business as transacted by the ladies. During the evening Master Ward G. Leathers, the 7-year old boy lecturer of Williamsport, Pa., was introduced and made a short speech, which created considerable amusement. Master Ward is lecturing in the interest of Dr. Meeker's medicines. The session ended Friday morning.

"Godey's Lady's Book for June is here on time, bright and charming, as usual. An attractive frontispiece, "Village Gossip," is followed by beautiful colored and black fashions. "The Modern Alden," by the popular author of "Gemini," of No Name Series, is a new serial, which promises much for the reader. The Spectre Castle," by Annie M. Barnes, is a masterpiece; "Out of the Deep," by Mary Imlay Taylor is sad and pathetic; "$5,000 for a Wife" closes in this number, and has elicited much commendation. "Major and Mrs. Hannibal Hawkes," by Belle C. Greene, is full of humor. Emily Read gives a pleasing tale entitled "Champney Roses." "A Wheel of Fortune," by Olivia Lovell Wilson, increases in interest as it nears completion. Several good poems, short sketches, and all the various departments, complete a number that cannot fail to please all tastes.

Death at Pine Glenn.

Death has again entered our community, Mrs. Joseph Zothers, daughter of the late William White, died on Sunday, May 18, at 1 o'clock. She had been ailing for some time but, notwithstanding her death was sudden and unexpected, as she sank rapidly. She was willing to go, and said she would "soon be at rest," she had been a member of the M. E. church for a number of years. Deceased was a loving sister, an affectionate wife and mother and a Christian. She leaves 5 children, a kind husband, an aged mother and sisters to mourn their loss. We hope to meet again when the last trumps shall sound. The remains were interred in Oak Hall Cemetery, Clearfield Co.

At a Girl's Mercy.

This is a spiritedly told romance of the War of the Rebellion, by Jean Kate Ludlum. There is one insult that a proud woman never forgives, and that insult was vividly recalled by Nan when the author of it held her father's life in his hand. Although her father's life depended on her forgiveness, she haughtily refused the assistance of the man whose audacity had given her deadly affront, and who came at last to acknowledge himself "At a Girl's Mercy." The story is true to life, gracefully and earnestly narrated, with numerous dramatic incidents. Price, 25 cents. Published by STREET & SMITH, 25 to 31 Rose Street, New York.

Asphyxiated.

Word was received at this office Thursday that a man had been smothered to death by gas at the nail works. A DAILY NEWS representative visited the place at once and found that the report, was greatly exaggerated. A young man named Harry Price was on top of the gas tank when he went to remove the covering of the manhole. The tank was not entirely empty of gas and when the cover was removed the gas escaping overcame the young man. His condition was soon discovered and a doctor summoned. A little rubbing and bathing and the young man was all right again. He was sent home for the day however.

Slightly Mistaken.

The churches were slimly attended on Sunday night exclaims the DAILY NEWS. Which proves that the editor of the DAILY NEWS didn't go to church at all and knows nothing about them. The church attended by the scribe of the the Gazette was even more largely attended than usual.—Gazette. The above portrays more plainly than ever the ignorance of the writer, as not only did the editor of DAILY NEWS attend church but he had positive information from the majority of houses of worship in Bellefonte to substantiate his assertion Married.

At half past four o'clock Tuesday afternoon May 50, at the home of the bride's parents near Martha Furnace, Centre Co., Mr. Newton Weaver, of Bellefonte, and Miss Belle Wagner, of Martha, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony, by Rev. J. C. Young. Quite a large number of invited guests were present and participated in the joyous occasion. The bride and groom were the recipients of many handsome presents and good wishes. They will go to housekeeping in Bellefonte.

—A man accompanied by his wife and one child, on their way from Houtzdale to New York from where they intended sailing for Ireland, were robbed of $300—all their savings—at Tyrone on Tuesday night. They were just in the act of boarding the train when a sleek looking gentleman stepped up apparently to assist the woman on the train, but, with a deft movement took her pocketbook, containing the $300, from her pocket. He was not captured.

The Boy's Essay.

How is this for an essay by a boy? "A right suite little buoy, the sun of a grate kernel, with a roughi about his neck flue up the rode as swift as a dear. Afte a thyme he stopped at a gnu house and wrung the belle. He was too tired to raze his fare, pale face. A feint mown of pane rows from his lips. The made who herd the belle was about to pear a pair, but she threw it down with awl her might—good night."

On the High School Class of '90.

It is an honor to the Class of '90, of Bellefonte High School, to stand so high as the article in Wednesday's DAILY NEWS stated, and it is an honor to each member of the class for what each does really know; and time—perhaps not far distant in the future—will tell. The article as written was uncalled for, untimely, unwise, perhaps for some purpose; and perhaps someone else paid for the advantages for honors. Self praise is a poor recommendation.

CLOSE OF SCHOOL.

The Schools in the Brick Building Close With Appropriate Exercises.

Between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock on Friday morning the schools in the brick building on Bishop street, under the supervision of their teachers, Misses Shortlidge, Rankin, Levy, Bottorf and Powers, with Prof. Lieb as master of ceremonies, rendered the following programme for the entertainment of the large audience of friends who had assembled to witness the finale of the school year of 1889—90.

Address of welcome, Walter Faxon.
Mother Goose Cantata: 1—march; 2—Cock Robin; 3—Flower Song; 4—Little Bopeep; 5—Simple Simons; 6—Old Mother Hubbard, 7—Jack and Jill, 8—Pretty Maids and Men, 9—The Crooked Men, 10—Adieu, 11—March.
Recitation, Paul Fortney.
Music, "The Mellow Horn."
Dialogue, class of girls.
Music, "The Awakening year."
Recitation—"Little Joe," Edith Holtz.
Music, "Fraun Tramp."
Recitation, Jno Sourbeck, Jr.
Music, "Vacation Song."

This ended the programme and the schools were dismissed with another school year past and gone.

"Jason" on Physical Training.

The Professors at the State College say that it is the object of the gymnastic and military training in that institution to turn out strong, healthy, athletic men than a few men or a team who can break records. It will be well if the same policy governs all colleges and clubs formed for cultivatian of athletic sports.

It did not need the splendid display of enthusiasm witnessed at the base ball contest between the State College and Lewistown teams the other day to prove the growing popularity of physical culture. Evidences of the fact are so plenty that every observer must have been impressed with them. All kinds of athletic sports are attracting many times the amount of attention they once did. Gymnasiums and schools of physical culture are springing up, and no city is so small that it cannot boast an athletic club or organization of some kind.

The fact of the popularity of physical culture having thus been established, it remains to direct that enthusiasm in the channel which will conduce most to the public good. It should be in the line indicated by the State College professors. If the present interest in gymnastics is used simply to encourage a few men on a boat crew or a football team to develop an abnormal amount of muscle for exhibition purposes the enthusiasm now felt in athletics will soon die out. A broader and more permanent basis for this interest must be found.

It is encouraging, therefore, to see many evidences that the interest in any manufacturer of athletic apparatus will athletics is not confined to clubs and teams, beneficial as these undobtedly are. testify that he never sold so great a variety and so many machines for aiding in physical development as now. Another encouraging circumstance is the fact that so much of this apparatus goes into the hands of men over 40 years of age, a period of life when men are apt to abandon all systematic physical culture. No more significant sign of the permanence of the athletic interest could be given than this.

The Candidacy of General Hastings.

At the headquarters of the Hastings Committee of One Hundred, last evening, William R. Leeds received a dispatch stating that the York county Republican Convention, yesterday, by a vote of 89 to 23, elected four Hastings delegates to the State Convention—Messrs. Stahle, Fulton, Sharon and Curns—and that they were, without opposition, instructed to vote for General Hastings for the nomination for Governor.

H. Legrand Ensign, of Ardmore, President of the Dirgio Club, recently wrote to General Hastings that the club had passed resolutions, endorsing his candidacy, and appointed a committee to make arrangements for a public meeting in his support. Mr. Ensign added that the Bryn Mawr Republican Club had also passed resolutions, to attend the meeting in a body. At the request Et of Mr. nsigno name a time for meeting the clubs, General Hastings has written to Mr. Leeds, naming next Monday evening.

The Union Republican Club of the Twenty-fourth Ward, has unanimously endorsed the candidacy of General Hastings.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

—Henry Barnes, of Philipsburg, was thrown from a wagon on Friday evening last and injured to such an extent that he died Tuesday. The deceased' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs Eakdale, were victims of the Johnstown [illegible] and now this calamity following so soon afterward has again thrown the other members of the family into deep mourning.

BACHER—MIDLAM.

A Brilliant Wedding at Pine Glen—The Presents Numerous and Costly.

On Tuesday, the 13th day of May, M. L. Bacher, of Williamsport., Pa., and Miss Nettie Midlam, of Pine Glen., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. M. D. Jackson performed the ceremony that made them man and wife, and Miss Emma Midlam, sister of the bride, and Mr. Montgomery, of Williamsport, acted as bridesmaid and groomsman.

The bride was dressed in a rich silk warped henrietta cloth, and looked very bewitching and lovely. The groom was arrayed in a suit of the customary black. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Charles Beates.

Immediately after the ceremony, and while waiting for the train, an inspection of the fine array of presents was made and the collection was found to be both large and valuable. Among the presents we mention the following:

Mr. George Boak and daughter, set of silver table spoons; Mr. William Hipple and wife, water set and cake stand; Mr. and Mrs. Bagley, set of table spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Bender, cake stand; Mr. Montgomery, half dozen silver forks; Mr. and Mrs. C H Beates, stand cover; Mr. and Mrs. W. S Loy, wash bowl, pitcher and towels; Mr. Len. Mawryer and Miss Stella Reese, lamp; Mr. W Meeker, lamp; Miss Alferetta Meeker, set of vases; Mrs. H Meeker, table cloth; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meeker, set of knives; Miss Flora Meeker, vase; Mr. and Mrs. T B Budinger, web of muslin and towels; Mr. Elmer Yothers, "Nelly Bly" lamp; Miss Susie Martines, fan; Miss Dora G White, stand scarf; Mr. Walter Midlam, set of vases; Mr. S E Midlam, lamp; Mr. E N Midlam, autograph album; the bride's father Mr. Isaac Midlam, table cloth; Mrs. I Midlam, $15; Miss Emma Midlam, $4; Mr. and Mrs. Hearndom, book of poems; Dr. Nevling and wife, large picture and water set.

After the inspection of the presents the forty assembled guests were summoned to the dining room where a choice collation was served. Shortly after lunch the bride and groom were driven to Snow Shoe where they took the train over the B. C. railroad for their future home in Williamsport. All their friends join in wishing them much happiness and success in their journey through life. x

The Cleary Case.

The Renovo Record says [the Cleary case will now come back for trial again in our courts and doubtless the whole ground will be gone over. Since the trial many witnesses have gone to distant parts of the country, but under the act of 1887, the printed testimony of such witnesses taken at the last trial, may be offered again in evidence. It is rumored that Messrs. McCormick and Kress, the attorneys for Cleary will effect a compromise with the Commonwealth's attorneys, by offering a plea of "guilty of murder in the second degree." By this arrangement heavy bills of expense would be saved to the taxpayers, the prisoner to be sent ten or twelve years to the penitentiary, and the claims of justice satisfied. Some attorneys here, however, entertain serious doubts about the Commonwealth accepting such an arrangement, and look forward to another effort to convict him of murder in first degree.

This is wonderful, said Tompkins, as he looked at the remnants of a large cheese. When I brought this home it was American, but since the rats have taken hold it is fromage debris.

Citizen—So you think of locating here? Physician—Yes. I thought some of practicing among you.

Citizen—See here, young man, there's a good opening here for a man as understands his biz, but we don't want no practicing, or experimenting—doctoring's what we want!

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present, alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or overbusy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his "practice" until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

It's the only medicine for the weaknesses, irregularties and painful derangements peculiar to women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. One a dose. Sold by druggists. 25 cents a vial.

Local Department.

—Sunday was a cool and dismal day.

—This is the week of the Hign School Commencement.

—From all appearance Decoration day will be fair and pleasant.

—The funeral of Mrs. Fisk will occur this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Ex-Governor Curtin arrived at his home in this place on Friday evening.

—Adjutant General Hastings paraded with the Knights Templar in Lock Haven.

—Dr. H. K. Hoy, has made a change in his professional card in this paper. Read it.

—Had it continued raining boats would have been in demand in Lock Haven on Tuesday.

—The Lock Haven Express has got the pink eye. It took it in honor of the K. T. Conclave.

—A new roof is being put on the portico of the Dartt house on Allegheny street, next to Episcopal church, and now occupied by Mr. Wheelan.

—Mrs. John W. Gardner, of Howard, died at nine o'clock on Monday evening of last week, and was buried on Thurs. day at Sand Hill Cemetery.

—Jacob D. Valentine is becoming one of our best trout fishermen. He caught two fine fish on Monday, measuring respectively 10 and 11½ inches.

—McCalmont & Co., of this place, will hereafter manufacture a high grade of Supre Phosphate. We trust they will met with great success in thir undertaking.

—We hear of one young man in Bellefonte who had his pocket picked of over two hundred dollars on last Saturday, and several other young men who lost smaller amounts.

—Census enumerators begin their work on Monday next. Mr. T. R. Benner will ask the questions in the North Ward and Capt. Amos Mullen will do the inquisitive act in the South.

—Only two marriage licenses were issued this week. One to Asher C. Cooper, of Gregg township, and Alice R. Breon, same place. The other to John Goethe, of Allport, and Anna Marks, same place.

—They say that a young man from Bellefonte was arrested at the Irvin House Lock Haven on Tuesday evening for robbery—he having stolen money from different parties. The man now languishes in the Clinton county jail.

—The first National Bank, of this place, has issued execution against the Powelton Iron Company on a mechanic's lien for $3,889.37. The Houtzdale bank has brought a suit in ejectment in the Court of common pleas to recover the ore lands held by the same company as above mentioned in Bradford and Huntingdon counties.

—Mr. John Kenyon, formerly connected with the telephone company in Philipsburg but now of Unityville, and who is well known in this place, has engaged in the poultry business. He has two incubators at work and already 700 little chicks hatched out and he expects to be able to furnish 5000 for the market this season.

——The most wonderful book of the age," "in Darkest Africa, by Henry M. Stanley," giving an account of the last expedition of Stanley written by his own hand. It should be in every home in the land: Published simultaneously in the United States, Great Britan, and Germany. Miss Jennie C. Miller is canvassing for it in Bellefonte. Sold only by subscription: Buy of her a book.

—The services in St. John's Episcopal church on Sunday were very impressive. Rev. J. O. Davis was unsually eloquent and his burning words of admonition and warning touched the hearts of many of his hearers. The music, too, was especially fine, and just here we will add that Mr. George B. Brandon jr, played the organ and under his skillful touch the instrument poured forth its sweetest strains in perfect harmony to the trained voices of the choir.

—It has been suggested by a man of consideradle theatrical talent that a dramatic company be organized in Bellefonte. There surely is sufficient talent in the town to do so and it would be a creditable advancement towards the entertainment of the fun loving portion of Bellefonters, now that an opera house is an assured thing. Let somebody start the movement toward the organization of such a company.

—On Monday afternoon the Sir Knights of Constans Commandery, in this place, accompanied by the Zion band, departed on the 4.30 train for Lock Haven to attend the Conclave in session there this week. There were about forty men in line, without the band, as they marched down High street to the depot, and a very fine showing they made, all be decked, as they were, in their gaudy dress uniforms. We venture to bet they will be the handsomest looking band of men in the parade today.

Census Enumerators

THE FOLLOWING IS THE LIST OF MEN WHO WILL TAKE

The Census in Centre County

THIRTY-ONE DISTRICTS IN CENTRE COUNTY —LIST OF QUESTIONS THAT WILL BE ASKED THE FARMERS.

Through the kindness of Census Supervisor, Capt. P. D. Bricker, of Jersey Shore we are to-day enabled to give our readers a list of the names of the men who, next week, will visit every home in Centre county and ask you ten more questions than was ever before conjured up in the English, or any other, language. Following is the list which was opproved May 22, 1890;

District No. 53. Bellefonte North ward —Thomas R. Benner, soldier, Bellefonte.

54. South ward—Amos Mullen, soldier, Bellefonte.

55. West ward—Samuel A. Bell, Bellefonte.

(39) Vineyards: Number of acres in vines bearing and in young vines not bearing; products of grapes and raisins, and value in 1889.

Besides these questions on the regular Agricultural Schedule No. 2, Superintendent Robert P. Porter has ordered several special investigations in the interests of agriculture, among which are Viticulture, Nurseries, Florists, Seed and Truck, Farms, Semi-tropic Fruits, Oranges, etc., Live Stock on the great ranges, and in cities and villages; also the names and number of the various farmer's organizations, such as Agricultural and Horticultural Societies, Poultry and Bee Associations, Farmers' Clubs, Grangers, Alliances, Wheels, Unions, Leagues, etc.

In no part of the census work have the lines been extended more than in the direction of agriculture, and if farmers will now cheerfully co-operate with the enumerators and other officials in promptly furnishing the correct figures more comprehensive returns regarding our greatest industry will be obtained than ever before.

International S. S. Convention.

—The sixth international (tenth national) Sunday school convention, of the United States and British North American provinces, will be held in the city of Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday, Wednesday Thursday and Friday, June 24, 25, 26, and 27, 1890. The session of the convention will be held in Mechancial hall of the exposition building, on Duquesne way, between First and Forth streets beginning Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and closing with Friday evening. Three sessions will be held daily.

In view of the importance of this convention of Sunday school workers, it is requested that frequent and earnest prayer be offered that wisdom may be given to all who have direction in the preparation for this gathering. That Jesus Christ our Divine Lord may be glorified, that the Holy Spirit may be honored and that the inspired Word of God may be magnified by all who participate in the exercise. And that the blessing of God may rest upon and crown the deliberations of the convention.

In behalf of the Executive Committee
B. F. Jacobs, Chairman,

Pennsylvania's quota of delegates is one hundred and twenty, of which about sixty will be appointed by the various county associations and the remainder by the State Executive Committee. It is expected that every county will be represented, and that our quota will be filled. Credentials will be issued by the chairman of the State Executive Committee. Arrangements are being made for a "Pennsylvania Headqnarters" and badges will be forwarded for all. The railroads east of Pittsburgh will charge one and one-third fare for the round trip, and those west one full fare, on the certificate plan.

For the State Executive Committee.
W. R. Ross, M. D., Chairman.

—Quite a number of Tyroners took in the show on Saturday.

CIRCUS DAY IN BELLEFONTE.

A Large Crowd in Town—A Good Attendance—An Excellent Show and Everybody Happy.

It rained hard all day Friday and the first part of Friday night and the youth of the land were fearful lest Saturday would be a wet day and they could not come to Bellefontet to see the circus. But they had no cause for disappointment, as Saturday was a model show day. The heavy rains of the previous day had rendered the ground too wet for farming and everybody took advantage of the opportunity to attend Forepaugh's circus in Bellefonte, and, long before the show had arrived, a large crowd had gathered at the P. R. R. depot to see the three long trains bearing the Cooper and Forepaugh Combined Colossal Aggregation and great all feature show come in. It came, about half past 8 o'clock, and immediately commenced unloading. And from that time till eleven o'clock—over two hours—it took to unload gilded cages, finely painted chariots, tents, animals, etc. The parade was late in starting, it being one o'clock before it left the show ground, and in consequence thereof, was necessarily small, as none of the animal cages were in line. What there was of it though, made a good showing.

The peformance in the afternoon was one of the best ever given in Bellefonte. The programme was given in three sections; opening with the circus performance, then the hippodrome races, and closing with the Wild West exhibition. The daring feats of the circus were performed in two rings and on a centra stage. Orrin Hollis and William Walle. were the daring horseback riders, Eddit Rivers danced the tight rope; Josie Ashton and Annie Carroll were the famous fair equestriennes; Her Jagendorfer tossed huge cannon balls as easily as an ordinary man would play marbles; Mlle Tournour posed gracefully on the swinging trapeze; Kelly and Ashby's "sports in a Chinese laundry" were fully appreciated. Brazil and Alton's head balancing perch act was exciting and much admired; the Fisher brother's mid-air flights were as fascinating as they were startling. The hippodrome acts were hotly contested and enthusiastically cheered. Adam Forepaugh, jr's, forty horse act was much admired and loudly applauded. The performance closed with the wonderfully realistic exhibition of life on the plains—amid the cowboys and Indians. Captain A. H. Bogardus and his sons did some wonderful target shooting.

The concert was well attended and well worth the price of admission. In the 4-Paugh annex was a collection of the rare, curious, and wonderful. A man without legs; the wonderful snake charmer; the strong man; the girl of second sight; the fat woman; the tall man and the short man; the tattoed man and the ventriloquist, and finally the only and original "Punch and Judy."

If there is one thing more than another on which James E. Cooper deserves credit it is for the order and morality connected with this show. There were no gamblers or hangers on; there was nothing sold on the seats and scores of gentlemanly ushers thronged the main tents to conduct all to alcomfortable seat and to see that proper order was maintained.

Mr. C. A. Davis, the press agent accompanying the show, is a gentleman in every respect and displayes marked ability in the way he handles his part of the work. He is courteous, affable, polite and especially liberal in his dealings with the Press.

THEY LOST AN ELEPHANT.

The Cooper show exhibited in Johnstown on Friday. After they were all loaded up and started they lost one of their elephants. Mr. Davis says that when about fifteen miles this side of Johnstown the discovery was made that one of their elephant cars was broken open, the door lost off and one elephant gone. The trains were stopped, the car, yet containing seven elephants, was side tracked, and men were left to hunt the missing quadruted. Up to 8 o'clock on Saturday night no tract of it had been found. Dispatches had been sent all around and, of course, it will only be a question of time, until it is discovered;

NOTES OF SHOW DAY

There were fully six thousand persons in attendance at the afternoon performance on Saturday.

There was but one fight on Saturday that we heard of. That was made by a colored man who was arrested and put in the lockup.

There were three passenger coaches on the Snow Shoe railroad on Saturday two on the Buffalo Run; five on the Bald Eagle and eight on the Lemont. This will give an idea of the crowd.

—We have been requested by the committee on flowers of Gregg Post, to say that all contributions of flowers for Decoration day will please be sent to the vacant store room in the McClain block, opposite the Bush House entrance, as early as possible Friday morning.

Festival.

The Union Sabbath school will give a festival to the public next Saturday afternoon and evening, May 31, in Bush's Addition—at the school house. The proceeds for the benefit of the Sabbath school. Everybody is invited. Come one Come all.

THE GREAT WIGTON SUIT.

Lawyers Claim That Freight Discriminations Are Criminalities.

The suit of R. B. Wigton & Sons against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company came up for argument yesterday before Judge Pennypacker and Fell in Common Pleas Court, No. 2.

The action has been pending in the courts for some time. The first suit was brought against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in Common Pleas Court No. 1 where triple damages were sued for alleged discriminations in hauling the coal of the firm from their mines in the Clearfield coal district. When the case came up before the Court it was decided in favor of the defendant company. Judge Biddle holding that it was a matter beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, and should be decided by the inter-State commerce law.

Crawford and Dallas, attorneys for Wigton & Sons, immediately entered another suit on the same charges, with some slight alterations, in Common Pleas, No. 2. This suit was for a claim of nearly $380,000, and was brought not only for the injuries sustained to their business by the falling of their coal trade. The suit was set aside on a legal technicality, the company holding that the suit should have been brought "in trespass" instead of "in assumpsit," by the provision of the act of Assembly which was in operation when the alleged discriminations took place.

These points were argued yesterday, George M. Dallas, George L. Crawford and John G. Johnson represented Wigton & Sons, while David W. Sellers appeared for the defendant corporation. In the argument the discriminations of the officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company were denounced as even more criminal than the offences of the presidents and the cashiers of banks who took the money of their depositors and fled to Canada. The Pennsylvania Railroad, the attorneys for the plaintiffs said, was for the benefit of the public, but, as they controlled monopolies, were often able to hold the manufacturers along the line at their mercy as regards to rates of transportation.

Mr. Sellers raised the defense that the whole case was but a scheme for blackmail and was brought for no other purpose. This declaration brought some heated declarations from the other side, Mr. Johnson declaring that the railroad company could not come into court and openly deny the statements but attemptad to throw the suit aside by a point in law.

The Court took the papers of the case and held the matter under advisement

Memorial Sermon.

The memorial sermon preached in the Court house on Sunday afternoon, at 49 o'clock by the Rev. J. B. Koontz, who is also a comrade and a member of Gregg Post, was an able effort and a fitting tribute to those who suffered, bled and died for their country. The text was from the 8th verse of the 46 chapter of Isaiah: "Remenbering this, show yourselves men," We would like to give a lengthly description of this eloquent and beautiful sermon but time and space forbids.

After the sermon was over Comrade James Rankin payed a glowing tribute to the "Old War Governor," who was present at the meeting, after which the Post Commander, T. R. Benner, called for the Post to salute Mr. Curtin, which was accordingly done.

The Aeolian orchestra and the Y. M. C. A. quartette were present and furnished the music for the occasion. The meeting closed by singing "My country 'Tis of Thee" and then the benedictien

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Blanche Kane of Altoona, is spending a few days in Bellefonte.

Prof. and Mrs. Bonbright departed on Saturday evening for a trip to Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. George D. Green is spending a few day, at the home of W. E. Gray, Esq., on Linn Street.

Miss Clara Anderson, one of the pleasant and agreeable lady compositors of this office, is spending a few days in Lock Haven.

Mrs. Wm. Cleaver departed this morning on the 10.30 train for an extended visit to Curwensville, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. M. Kirk.

Death of Mrs. Fisk.

Mrs. Fisk, mother of Mrs. Annie Dunn, died last night about seven o'clock at the residence of her daughter Mrs. Dunn, West Church street, aged 73 years. The deceased went to Santa Paula, California, last September where she remained during the winter. About ten weeks ago she was taken sick and one week ago was brought here helpless. Since then she gradually grew worse and at the hour above named her spirit took ts flight. The time of the funeral will be announced later.—Lock Haven Express.

Mrs. Fisk was well known in Bellefonte, having frequently visited at the home of her daughter, the former Mrs. John G. Love. Her many friends here will mourn her sudden demise. Deceased leaves only two children, Mrs. Dunn, of Lock Haven, and L. J. Fisk, of Cheshire, Mass.

—Next Saturday, the 31st day of May, the bass season opens.

WEATHER IN JUNE.

THE BEGINNING OF A LONG DROUGHT PERIOD TO LAST SEVERAL YEARS PREDICTED.

The Rev. Ira R. Hicks, of St. Louis, announces in World and Works the following predictions for June:

The equinox of Mars falling on the 26th of May will aggravate, and perhaps prolong, the reactionary storms of the 39th and 30th over their normal limit into June. But a marked fall of temperature will pass from West to East during the first two days of June. About the 3d wind currents will shift to Easterly and Southerly, with falling barometer and rising temperature, moving from West to East. Active storms will originate about the same time, reaching the central and Eastern parts on the 4th, 5th and 6th. The disturbing cause is central on the 4th. In the nature of things, a cool wave must follow, and be felt, more or less, throughout the country in its progress to the East and South. The reactionary storm days after this period fall on the 10th and 11th, which time is also about the crisis of Summer solstice, meteorologically speaking. Heavy and general rain storms with high temperature and much lightning may be expected on and about these days, followed in every probability by cool days and showers continued into the next period.

We indicate in the calender the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th as the second regular period in June. The disturbing factors are central on the 15th. A wave of almost phenomenal warmth will cross the country during the days indicated, attended with much lightning and thunder and heavy rainfalls. The waters will be high and raising by the close of the period. If such results should, from unknown causes, fail to appear, the probabilities of earthquake disturbances during the danger days, especially about the 17th, will be largely increased. The reactionary days, 21st and 22d, under the additional of Mars, Mercury, and June solstice, will assert themselves in a warm wave, and thunder-gun.

The last period of the month will be from about the 26th to 30th, with danger days on the 27th, 28th, and 29th. The period is central on the 27th. June is the closing month of the Jovian period, as indicated by red figures on our tabulated chart printed in 1884. Notwithstanding a Venus disturbance is central on July 16th, and will lap with that of Mars the last of June, we expect after the close of June rains the beginning of a period which will continue for several years, which will grow to be as marked, in consequence of droughts, as that which is just closing has been by its storms and floods. It is greatly to be hoped that the public will give that attention to the general subject which its importance would seem to demand. If we have miscalculated, our mistake will only be the more apparent; if we are correct, who can measure the good that might result from timely adjustment to changed conditions.
